YAARAB PATROL AND DRUM CORPS CHEERED IN PARADE

Traffic Blocked in Dallas for Fifteen Minutes as 10,000 Cheer the Atlanta Shriners Through the Streets

BY RAYMUND DANIEL.
Journal Staff Correspondent.

DALLAS, Tex., May 13.—All interest that has been centered in the selection of the next meeting place of the 1914 conclave of the Imperial council of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine was intensified Tuesday with the opening of the annual convention in the new $350,000 Scottish Rite cathedral here Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

It will be Wednesday before the convention place for next year will be definitely settled. The invitations were presented Tuesday to the committee and arguments made. The committee will report to the conclave Wednesday morning.

There were only two contestants in the field—Atlanta and Memphis. Although there had been some reports that Atlantic City might be presented, the last named city, however, was not seriously enough considered to be of importance. The great battle will center around Atlanta and Memphis, with the Georgia city practically assured of sufficient pledges to win the conclave.

The invitation of Yaarab temple of Atlanta was presented by Illustrious Potentate Forrest Adair and Past Illustrious Potentate John Arthur Hynds. The representatives of Yaarab are confident that the Atlanta invitation will be accepted and if it is not, then the fight will be on the floor, where Atlanta claims sufficient pledges to secure the meeting.

OVATION TO ATLANTA.

Monday's round of entertainment for members of the Yaarab temple was culminated late in the afternoon when 10,000 people delayed trolley and street traffic for fifteen minutes to cheer the Yaarab Shrine drum corps and patrol.

The outburst of cheers for the Atlanta contingent came after a parade by different bands with the fezes of the various temples. The individual patrols had been given their share of praise when the red-plated drum corps and cream-uniformed patrol of Yaarab temple swept into sight.

Straight down Main street they came, with drums and bugles going. There had been no music of its kind before and 10,000 necks were craned. As the drum corps reached the first phalanx of spectators the crowd broke into cheers and throaty throngs along the streets took up the cry.

An overzealous motorman pushed his car across the street and stopped the parade, but the throng on the pavement stopped the car, and the trolley checked the advance of the Atlanta contingent. But they never stopped playing and the crowds swarmed around the street and surrounded the Atlanta drum corps and patrol for fifteen minutes. Later the traffic squad was enabled to drive back the crowds.

The reception that greeted the patrol was enjoyed all day long at the headquarters of the Yaarab temple and the delegation from Alee temple of Savannah.

The arrival of Imperial Outer Guard E. A. Cutts, of Savannah, was the signal for one of the greatest ovations of the day. Shriners in the Adolphus hotel lobby almost fought to get to him and throw their arms around him.

"He is imperial potentate stuff," was the shout of every man who met him. He is one of the most popular members of the organization and will be advanced to imperial inner guard at the Dallas convention.

Illustrious Potentate Forrest Adair, Past Potentate Hynds, Joseph C. Greenfield, of Lulah temple, and Grand Master Robert U. Golding, of Savannah, held informal receptions all of Monday. The members of Yaarab and Alee temples are more confident than ever that the 1914 convention will come to Atlanta. Joseph C. Greenfield, who is compelled to attend the grand commandery of Georgia in Columbus, of which he is a past grand commander, left Dallas Monday night, confident that Atlanta will be the next place of meeting.

Monday night was devoted to informal receptions with three formal dances for the visitors.

50,000 VISITORS IN DALLAS.

The Shrine convention here has been turned into a mecca by the southwest to the nobles of the order from other sections of the country. Temples in Canada, California, Oklahoma, Louisiana, New York, Pennsylvania, Georgia, Tennessee and far away Manitoba have sent scores of hundreds of Shriners, who are joining with the Dallas contingent and representatives from practically every temple in Texas in making a continuous street carnival. There are about 50,000 visitors here to witness the fun. 15,000 of whom are nobles and members of the order.

Feats of roping and "cow-punching," as still carried on to some extent in Texas, were demonstrated today by several "bonafide" cowboys from ranches in the western part of the state.

Aloha temple of Mobile announces that it will ask the imperial council for permission to conduct a class of novices in one of the locks at the Panama canal.

NEW ORLEANS' "HURDY GURDY."

Jerusalem temple, of New Orleans, brought a "hurdy gurdy" that did not make as much noise as bands of some of the other patrols, but the New Orleans nobles pointed with pride last night to the fact that when all other musicians were winded and had to quit, the hurdy gurdy was still playing with a silk trousered Frenchman astride its top and a guard of honor making a hollow square about it.

"Mornin Silas," being the password of the convention, the New Orleans folk have invented the reply "Mornin Mandy."

The Memphis delegates also have their own greeting, which is "Howdy Strum, how's your cotton?" The Bedouine patrol from Muskogee, Okla., is also after first honors for marching and fine raiment. The Muskogeeites claim, with justice, that they have several shades on the rainbow, but they need afraid Lulu temple, of Philadelphia, famous at all shrine gatherings, has some new colors packed away in its trunks to produce at the last moment.

Dallas not only suspended business today, but freight cars had to be moved out of the city to make room on side tracks for the parking of Pullman cars in which about 5,000 persons are living, some of them in considerable splendor. There are thirty-six dining cars in use in this "Pullman city."

The first street parade was held this forenoon by forty patrols in Oriental costumes which escorted Imperial Potentate William J. Cunningham, of Baltimore, and the other imperial officers to the Scottish Rite temple here. There were four camels in the procession, three with Molla temple of St. Joseph, Mo., and one with Alchymia temple of Memphis.

J. WYLIE SMITH IS REPORTED ARRESTED; REQUISITION ISSUED

Gov. Colquitt Has Honored Requisition and Officer Has Gone to El Paso to Bring Smith to Atlanta

SMITH SURRENDERED VOLUNTARILY, IT IS SAID

And He Is Reported to Be Willing to Come Back and Face Charges—Has Been Missing Two Years

J. Wylie Smith has been "arrested" again.

Again it is in Texas, at El Paso; and this time the dispatches say he surrendered of his own volition and that he's willing to come back to Atlanta.

Smith will be remembered as the head of the Commercial Loan and Discount company, of Atlanta, who disappeared a couple of years ago and left behind him a chaotic state of affairs in the company's business. It has been alleged that he secured large sums of money in devious ways from clients of the company. He was located shortly afterward in Mexico, but attempts to extradite him failed because of the revolution there. Smith casting his lot with the rebels (according to reports which came back to Atlanta) and so being released from arrest in that republic. Several times he has been reported as "arrested," and officers have sought repeatedly to bring him back to Georgia; but until now Mexico has continued to be his safe refuge.

The dispatches now say that T. H. Hamilton, agent of the Fulton county authorities, left the state house in Austin last Saturday evening with Governor Colquitt's signature upon a requisition from Georgia, to go to El Paso, where Smith was awaiting him.

Folowing is the dispatch from Austin:

"AUSTIN, Tex., May 13.—Governor Colquitt has honored a requisition by the governor of Georgia for the extradition of J. Wylie Smith, wanted in Atlanta, Ga., to answer a charge of forgery. Smith is at El Paso awaiting the arrival of T. H. Hamilton, the agent of the Fulton county, Ga., authorities, and will be taken back to Atlanta to stand trial.

"Mr. Hamilton was here and obtained the papers from the executive department and then left for El Paso for Smith. The application for the requisition discloses that Smith is charged under indictment of the grand jury of Fulton county with forgery, the instrument being a promisory note for $1,500. The name of M. A. Smith was forged, so it is alleged in the indictment, which was returned June 7, 1911. It appears Smith was in Mexico and came voluntarily to this side of the river into El Paso and is willing to return. The requisition was issued Saturday evening.

If Arrested, El Paso Doesn't Know About It

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

EL PASO, Tex., May 13.—J. Wylie Smith has not been arrested here and is not here so far as police and sheriff's office know. If he is in El Paso he is at hiding unknown to officers. Last El Paso officers heard of him he was with the Mexican rebels with whom he left Juarez after being arrested there on complaint of a detective from Atlanta. The rebels released him on his promise to join them.

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 13.—The funeral of Mrs. E. J. Wendt, former resident of Columbus, who died in Charolitte, N. C., took place from the residence of F. E. Lummus, her son-in-law, in Wynnton, this afternoon at 3 o'clock, the services being conducted by Dr. I. S. McElroy and the interment was in Linwood. The body of Mrs. Wendt reached Columbus this morning.

Presbyterians in Pre-Assembly Tuesday

At 3 o'Clock Tuesday Afternoon First Preliminary Session Will Be Held at First Baptist Church — Thousands Will Arrive Wednesday, Gossip About the Delegates

Atlanta is in the hands of visiting Presbyterians Tuesday.

The first pre-assembly conference opens at the First Baptist church at 3 p. m. Tuesday and will be attended by the advance guard of several hundred Presbyterians. Also the commissioners who have reached the city by that time will be in attendance.

This conference, which will consider every phase of religious education, is considered one of the most important that will precede the great union of churches on Thursday at the auditoriumarmory. Other conferences will continue through Wednesday, the morning and afternoon meetings taking place at the Baptist church and the final session at 8 o'clock at the Harris Street Presbyterian church. This last session will be attended by the three divisions of the church and by as many members of the pre-assembly conference as have no meeting at that hour. The conferences on evangelism, theological seminaries, U. S. A., and on missions by the U. S. A. commissioners, have no sessions Wednesday night.

DELEGATES ARRIVING.

By noon Tuesday there were fully 300 commissioners and visitors in the city in anticipation of the pre-assembly conferences of the Presbyterian church. On the late afternoon trains from the east and west and north fully 1,000 visitors are expected so that by nightfall the active Presbyterian meeting will be under way with up to the present. The head of the local Burns agency was in Mr. Dorsey's office Tuesday, but he and the solicitor both stated that he had not called in connection with the Phagan matter.

Mr. Felder seemed very hopeful Tuesday that Burns would come in person to take up the investigation of the murder mystery, but stated that he would know nothing definite for several days. Mr. Felder still refuses to disclose the names of the parties who are said to have employed him to prosecute anyone who might be indicted for the Phagan killing.

NEW WITNESS IN CASE.

G. O. P. COMMITTEE MAY CALL A CONVENTION

Republican Senators Use Influence to Link Moose and Old Party in One

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Republican senators who attended the Progressive conference in Chicago returned today determined to exert their influence at the command to induce the national committee to call a reorganization convention in the fall.

When the national executive committee meets here May 24, these senators will report the sentiment from many states as exhibited in the Chicago conference.

Senator Cummins said today that written appeals from many states would be laid before the national committee setting forth reasons for a reorganization convention.

"We feel greatly encouraged," said he.

The suggestion that attempts be made to induce Republicans who joined the Progressive party to return to their old allegiance were discussed today by house Progressives and Representative Hinebaugh, of Illinois, speaking for them, issued a statement declaring that "the only course for the Progressive Republicans to pursue is to come into the Progressive party where they belong."

FALLING SPIRE KILLS POLICE AND FIRE CHIEF

Knox Church Tower in Stratford, Ontario, Struck by Lightning

(By Associated Press.)

STRATFORD, Ont., May 13.—The tall spire of the Knox Presbyterian church, towering 160 feet above the street, was struck by lightning early today and in the crashing fire three men were killed and another mortally injured.

The three men who lost their lives were buried beneath the burning debris when it toppled and fell; the fireman was laid out with a blow on the head from a flying timber.

The dead:

J. A. M'CARTHY, chief of police.
HUGH DURRKIN, fire chief.
MATTHEW HAMILTON, policeman.

The injured man is Sidney Van Stone.

The steeple, visible over a great radius, burned without hindrance as the puny stream of water, far below, fell many feet short. Showers of blazing embers fired the roof of the church, and M'Carthy, Durkin and Hamilton, dragging hose, had scrambled up a ladder to the roof when the belfry fell.

ATLANTA, KAS., PASTOR IS KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

ATTICA, Kan., May 13.—Rev. Robert Carlisle, pastor of the First Methodist church at Atlanta, Kan., was killed and his brother and sister, J. A. Carlisle and Ethel Carlisle, both of Winfield, Kan., were seriously injured today when their automobile overturned near here.

MRS. DRUMMOND IS IN A STATE OF COLLAPSE

Suffragette Leader Will Be Unable to Attend Trial Before Many Months

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, May 13.—"General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, the militant suffragette leader, is in a state of collapse and was unable to appear at the resumed hearing at Bow street police court today on the charge of conspiracy under the malicious damage to property which has been brought against her.

A doctor testified in court that owing to her illness she had been moved to a nursing home. It would take two weeks for her to get into a fit condition to undergo an operation, which was necessary and another two months before she would be able to be tried.

The other "conspirators" who comprised Miss Harriet Kerr, Miss Agnes Lake, Miss Rachel Barrett, Mrs. Beatrice Saunders, Miss Annie Kenney, Miss Laura Lennox and the analytical chemist, Clayton, all surrendered to their bail.

During the hearing the printers of the militant newspaper, the Suffragette, related the negotiations which led to their undertaking the work. Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst conducted the negotiations and in reply to expressions of fears by the printers that the job was a dangerous one, gave her personal undertaking that no offensive or illegal matter would appear.

She laid stress upon the point that her daughter, Christabel, was a specialist in international law.

Katherine Strange, proprietress of a tea pavilion which was burned in Kew gardens by the militant suffragettes, described a visit she made to Miss Rebecca Kerr after the destruction of the property.

Miss Kerr told her that she took much too personal a view of the matter. No doubt, Miss Kerr said, the women employed in the tea pavilion although they had lost their jobs, would ultimately be very glad they lent a helping hand to their fellow women.

Anyway, she continued, the only means of rousing the government was to attack private property and this the militant suffragettes intended to continue to do until they had obtained the vote.

Mrs. Strange informed Miss Kerr that her husband's tea pavilion in Regents park was also destroyed and suggested that the Strange family had suffered enough and its members would be glad if the militant suffragettes would leave their other refreshment pavilions standing.

In reply Miss Kerr declined to make any promise but said she would report the suggestion to headquarters.

A medal manufacturer testified about decorations supplied to the Women's Social and oPlitical union. He said that medals instrlbed "for valor" costs $10 each, "hunger strike" medals $2.36 and "fed by force" crosses $5. The most distinguished decorations known as "grill" brooches cost $10.50, he said.

Testimonials recording acts of lawlessness by adherents of the militant organization were also distributed among the rank and file by the leaders of the union, according to today's evidence.

JAPAN WANTS U. S. TO TEST ANTI-ALIEN LAW

No Further Move Will Be Made by Japan Until Bill Is Signed

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The Japanese ambassador will take no further steps in the protest against the California anti-alien land law until Governor Johnson acts upon the bill before him. Should he sign it, it was learned today that Japan, without making further representations to the state department, will wait a reasonable time to see what the federal administration intends to do to meet the complaint against the measure.

It was indicated today that Japan would not move to test the constitutionality of the law, but was inclined to the view it is incumbent upon the United States to take up that phase of the question.

Although it is understood here that Governor Johnson has thirty days to act, officials believe his answer to Secretary Bryan's last communication will be received within a week.

England Would Like to See Test Before Hague

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, May 13.—"If it be true that Japan wishes to carry the California land question to The Hague tribunal, we may shortly obtain a fruitful lesson in the practical limits of arbitration," says the Pall Mall Gazette today, in discussing the situation which has arisen between the United States and Japan, in regard to the Californian alien land ownership bill.

The newspaper continues:

"If the Chinese and Japanese are to have free entry to the Pacific coast, it means eventually the extirpation of white labor from that region.

"All the arbitration in the world will not persuade the people of the western states that it is their duty to give up their bread and butter to an allen race, and we can imagine how much likelihood of the government at Washington takes' measures to enforce such an award upon its own subjects. We should rather like to see the experiment for its usefulness in bringing dreamers back to hard facts."

FOUR ARE KILLED WHEN FAST TRAIN IS DITCHED

Three Passengers and Brakeman Die in Wreck on Oregon-Washington Line

(By Associated Press.)

TACOMA, Wash., May 13.—Four persons, three passengers and a brakeman were killed and seven seriously injured late yesterday when a train on the Oregon Washington line bound from Portland to Seattle was ditched near Lake View. The train was speeding over a stretch of level roadway at the rate of sixty-five miles a hour when it left the rails. The engine and eight cars went off the track.

SOLICITOR DORSEY IS WORKING NEW THEORY IN PHAGAN MYSTERY

He Will Not Disclose Its Nature, but He, Lanford and Beavers Declare No Arrests Are Contemplated

SOLICITOR WOULD WELCOME HELP OF BURNS

But Says He Knows Nothing of Effort to Bring Him Here. Miss Ross, a New Witness, Talks With Dorsey

A new theory about the mysterious murder of Mary Phagan has been presented to Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey in such a convincing manner by an unknown criminologist that the chief prosecuting officer of Fulton county has turned the Phagan investigation towards working out the new idea.

While Mr. Dorsey states that there is yet nothing very tangible about the theory, it is evident that the official considers the theory as well worth investigating.

Mr. Dorsey refuses to divulge the nature of the new theory or tell who first advanced it. In discussing the matter, however, he made the following very significant statement:

"We are not bottled up by any one theory—we have not concluded, and we are open to the truth."

The new theory, should it prove correct, would eliminate Leo M. Frank and Newt Lee, the two men ordered held by the coroner's jury, it is said.

The solicitor declares that he knows of no contemplated new arrest in the Phagan investigation. It is possible, he said, that the detectives might be planning to take some person, whose name has not hitherto been connected with the investigation, into custody, but if this is the case, he says that he knows nothing about it.

Both Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford and Chief of Police J. L. Beavers deny that they know of a new arrest is contemplated.

INVESTIGATION DRAGS.

That the Phagan investigation is dragging is shown by the statement of the solicitor general Tuesday that he did not think that the matter would be presented to the Fulton county grand jury this week.

He said that he did not think that the case would be taken by the jury this week, when asked if the matter would be presented to the jurors next week. While he would say nothing more, his answer to the question is taken as an intimation that, unless the grand jury itself asks that the probe be hastened, it may be two more weeks before effort is made to indict the two men now held in the tower or any persons who may subsequently be drawn into the net of circumstantial evidence.

Relative to the effort of Attorney Thomas B. Felder to induce William J. Burns, the famous detective, to take up the Phagan investigation, Mr. Dorsey said that he would be glad to see Mr. Burns on the case.

He knows nothing about the probability of Mr. Burns coming to Atlanta; however, he says that Mr. Felder has not consulted with him about the Mary Phagan case.

While Mr. Dorsey says that he saw two men at one time connected with the Burns agency here at the scene of the murder he does not know that they have done any detective work of any sort up to the present. The head of the local Burns agency was in Mr. Dorsey's office Tuesday, but he and the solicitor both stated that he had not called in connection with the Phagan matter.

Mr. Felder seemed very hopeful Tuesday that Burns would come in person to take up the investigation of the murder mystery, but stated that he would know nothing definite for several days. Mr. Felder still refuses to disclose the names of the parties who are said to have employed him to prosecute anyone who might be indicted for the Phagan killing.

NEW WITNESS IN CASE.

ALABAMA COURT TO HEAR PASSENGER RATE CASE

Louisville and Nashville Fighting Order for Two and One-Half Cent Rate

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May. 13.—Attorney General Robert C. Brickell has gone to Birmingham where he will appear Tuesday at the hearing of the application for an appeal filed by the Louisville and Nashville railroad in the contempt proceedings recently decided by Federal Judge W. I. Grubb, in the passenger rate case. Judge Grubb declined to hold the state railroad commission in contempt for issuing an order requiring the Louisville and Nashville to establish a 2 1-2 cent passenger rate on its lines in Alabama.

It is understood that the railroad desires another hearing in the case and has filed proceedings with this end in view. The railroad will ask Judge Grubb for permission to appeal the matter to the United States circuit court. In case Judge Grubb permits the railroad to appeal the matter it is likely that a temporary order restraining the railroad commission from enforcing its order on May 20 will be asked.

To become permanent, however, it will be necessary for three federal judges to pass on the prayer of the railroad for an injunction. Unless the temporary injunction becomes permanent before May 20 the order of the commission establishing the 2 1-2 cent rate will become effective on that date.

In a brief talk with Judge Grubb over the long distance telephone Monday, Attorney General Brickell was informed of the action of the railroad in asking for the appeal. The attorney general immediately notified Judge Grubb that he would be present at the hearing Tuesday.

Conferences have been held for several days by the attorneys of the railroad at legal headquarters in Louisville. Sydney J. Bowie, counsel for the railroad, attended the conference in Louisville and will probably have charge of the litigation brought before Judge Grubb.

Say Meal Is Bad

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 12.—Manufacturers of corn meal at Meridian and Columbus, Miss., have been shipping their products into several west Alabama counties without complying with the Alabama law in regard to the weights of the sacks, according to C. Homer Billingsley, state pure food clerk, who has just completed an investigation of the matter.

All the meal shipped into this state by the Mississippi companies has been underweight, it is alleged, yet the packages were sold as full weight products. The matter was reported to Mr. Billingsley and he made an investigation of the affair.

State Officials to Speak

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 13.—Captain R. F. Kolb, commissioner of agriculture, is in Albertville, where he will deliver the commencement address at the Seventh District Agricultural school.

Several other state officials will be kept busy during the next three weeks delivering commencement orations at various educational institutions in the state.

Governor O'Neal will attend the commencements at the University of Alabama May 25 to 28, and at Auburn, June 1 to 4, unless official duties interfere with his present plans. It is likely that the governor's staff will accompany him to the home coming celebration which will be held during the Auburn commencement.

Dr. Alsburg to Speak

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 13.—Dr. Carl L. Alsburg, of Washington, D. C., successor to Dr. Harvey as chief of the bureau of chemistry of the United States department of agriculture, will deliver an address before the annual meeting of the National Association of Pure Food Officials at Mobile, June 16, according to an announcement of C. Homer Billingsley, state pure food and drug clerk.

Information has also been received that Dr. Oscar Dowling, the famous sanitary expert of Shreveport, La., will be present at the convention and will also bring his health exhibit train with him.

Address of welcome to the visitors will be delivered by Governor O'Neal in behalf of the state, W. H. Armbrecht, president of the Mobile chamber of commerce, will welcome the delegates for the city of Mobile.

Mr. Billingsley expects the attendance to be as large as any previous meeting of the association. The membership includes pure food officials from every state in the union and also government officials.

Rejects School Land Bid

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 13.—Because he did not consider the price offered as a fair return for the land, H. J. Willingham, state superintendent of education, has officially rejected a bid of $1,760 for 320 acres of school lands located in Coosa county.

This tract will be sold at public auction at Goodwater next Saturday and the superintendent expects to obtain a much better price than the one he has just rejected.

Mr. Willingham may conduct the sale in person, as he left Monday night for a two-day visit to a county adjoining Coosa. He will inspect schools at Lineville and Ashland on his trip. Following this inspection he will go to Talladega, where he will attend the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Alabama Institute for Deaf, Dumb and Blind Children.

School Board to Meet

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 13.—Because of the failure of three members of the State Normal school board to attend the meeting called for Monday, the session was postponed until Tuesday, May 20. Those who were not present Monday were John D. McNeel, of Montgomery, John R. Weakley, of Birmingham, and Charles McDowell, Jr., of Eufaula.

Election of presidents and a discussion of the establishment of uniform systems of curriculums in the normal school of the state will be taken up at the next meeting.

FLOYD GRAND JURY OPENS WAR IN EARNEST ON FEES

Recommends Bill to Have All County Offices Placed on Salary Basis

ROME, Ga., May 13.—A war on the fee system in county offices has been inaugurated by the Floyd county grand jury. In the presentments just made there is a recommendation that the representatives from this county introduce a bill transferring all county offices from the fee to the salary system. The example of Fulton county in this regard is cited as a model.

Inasmuch as Floyd is one of the largest counties in the state, and the fees of the tax collector and other officials considerably exceed any salary they would be apt to receive, it is expected that the officeholders and their coterie of friends will resist before the legislature.

The members of the grand jury appear to be thoroughly in earnest, and have appointed a committee to take the matter in hand. They declare they do not intend for their recommendations to be ignored, as has been done with the previous grand juries' recommendations, and some lively presentments are expected.

Golf at Rome Country Club

ROME, Ga., May 13.—Play for four handsome trophies are in progress this week on the courts of the Coosa Country club. An unusually large entry list has been manifested. Contests will be pulled off in men's singles, men's doubles and mixed doubles. The golf tournament for the cup offered by President S. B. Norton is also in progress. The membership of the club has ryeached 165, and the season is at high tide.

Held for "Bootlegging"

ROME, Ga., May 13.—Henry Gossett, a young white man of Lavender, is under arrest charged with "bootlegging." It is alleged that Gossett has been making regular trips to the city, bringing with him suit cases full of liquor and retailing it around among the factory employes of the city.

Sheriff Dunehoo Injured

ROME, Ga., May 13.—W. G. Dunehoo, sheriff of Floyd county, was painfully injured in a runaway yesterday afternoon. He was returning to Rome from his farm six miles in the country when the horses became frightened and ran away, throwing him from the buggy. Outside of a few bruises he sustained no serious injuries.

COLUMBUS NOW READY FOR MEETING OF TEMPLARS

Annual Conclave of Grand Commandery to Be Opened With Big Parade

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 13.—Everything is in readiness for the coming of the Knights Templar from all sections of the state tomorrow for the annual conclave of the grand commandery. Local committees have succeeded in completing arrangements and present indications are that the meeting is going to be one of the largest and most important in the history of the organization. Grand Commander F. T. Petri is assisting in the final details.

The big event is to be formally opened with a great parade on Wednesday, just after the noon hour and from that time until the closing session the Knights will have a continuous round of business and pleasure.

Mrs. Jennie Mae Radcliff Indicted on Murder Charge

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 13.—Mrs. Jennie May Radcliff, thirty years old, who has been confined in the Muscogee county jail in a nervous state, having collapsed last week, was late yesterday indicted by the grand jury on the charge of murdering her husband, George Radcliff.

Mrs. Radcliff protests her innocence of the crime, declarin gthat she was drinking at the time her husband was shot, on the 19th of April, and that she had no idea who did the shooting. Following the shooting, officers found a pistol in the woman's house with one chamber freshly fired, and her arrest followed. Since she has been confined in a cell at the jail, the woman has been quite hysterical.

Sues Railroad Company

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 13.—One of the interesting case before the Muscogee superior court this week is that of W. G. Milam vs. the Columbus Railroad company, in which the former is suing the latter for $5,000, as alleged damages the plaintiff claims to have sustained while in the employ of the company, when he was injured in a head-on collision between two street cars. A number of lawyers are employed on both sides and the case promises to take up much time, and it is attracting unusual interest.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

GRIFFIN, Ga., May 13.—W. A. Goodrich, one of the most prominent young business men of Griffin, and known all over the state in insurance circles, committed suicide this morning by shooting himself in the mouth.

Mr. Goodrich was alone in his room at the time he committed the deed. His wife was downstairs, when she heard the report of the weapon. Rushing to her room, she found her husband lying across the bed partially dressed and with a gaping wound in the head. Physicians were summoned, but death had resulted almost instantaneously.

Mr. Goodrich had been suffering with nervous affection for some time and had become very despondent, which is the only cause that can be assigned for the deed.

He is survived by his wife, three small children, a brother and father. He was one of the most popular young men in the city, and his death has cast a shadow of sorrow over the entire community.

AN IMPORTANT QUESTION AND THE ANSWER

PORTERDALE, GA., May 10th, 1913.

The Atlanta Journal, Atlanta, Ga.,

Gentlemen:—For 750 answers in the Booklovers' Campaign will 750 coupons and pictures be required, or will 75 consecutive daily pictures and coupons, and your answer book, be all that is necessary? Respectfully,

J. N. O.

With the answer book you will only need one of each picture, or 75 in all, and can submit 750 answers in all.

To submit 750 answers without the answer book you will need 750 pictures and coupons. As most of our contestants could not afford to buy pictures and coupons enough to submit the full 750 answers, The Journal decided to get out an answer book that would be both economical and convenient. This answer book is arranged with a page for each of the pictures, with a page for ten answers for each of the pictures.

It is not the note book style of answer book, opening from the bottom, but is arranged to open at the side the same as one of the story books you are hunting so diligently for titles for these days.

We believe you will all be pleased with our new style answer book, both for neatness and convenience in handling.

It will be ready for you on Thursday, and will sell for 80 cents at The Journal office or 90 cents by mail.

Come in on Thursday, and get your answer book, or use the coupon and we will mail it to you.

It will be the great aid to your share of the $7,000.

ALL SORTS OF TIGERS HIT BY THIS DECISION

Supreme Court Holds That Forgotten Statute Applies Without Distinction

Another bludgeon was placed in the hands of the militant prohibitionists of Georgia Tuesday morning by the state supreme court when it upheld a strict application of the statute, enacted several years ago, under which any citizen is permitted to sue for the abatement of a "blind tiger" as a nuisance, the general public has heard little of the statute. Now it becomes suddenly quite important.

In effect, the supreme court held that a legal establishment conducted in violation of law is by reason of that fact a "blind tiger," and therefore a nuisance within the contemplation of the statute. Judge Walter G. Charlton, in the superior court at Savannah, had charged a jury down there that if the establishment of Simmons & Co., in Savannah, was operating openly and above board, it could not be held to be a "blind tiger," that it must be shown to have operated surreptitiously and furtively in order to be branded as a "blind tiger" and so be subjected to the specific nuisance abatement statute.

Under Judge Charlton's charge, the members of the jury found that Simmons & Co. were not maintaining a nuisance. The petitioners besought a new trial, while the judge refused, and they appealed to the state supreme court, which upholds them and reverses the judge, ordering a new trial on the ground that Judge Charlton's charge was in error.

Any sale of liquor in violation of law is a blind tiger operation, says the high court, and nothing more has to be established to identify it as such.

Seaborn Wright, of Rome, one of the foremost prohibition leaders of Georgia, came down to Atlanta and argued this case in behalf of the petitioners. Thompson et al. before the state supreme court.

SOUTHERN BAPTISTS GATHERING FOR BIG MEETING IN ST. LOUIS

Many Important Matters Are Scheduled to Come Up Before Convention Which Will Open Wednesday

BY REV. ALEX W. BEALER.

The Southern Baptist convention will meet in the city of St. Louis on Wednesday. Missouri is the northern boundary of the convention, but some of its strongest churches are in that state. The first business of the session will be the annual convention sermon, to be preached this year by Dr. Thomas W. O'Kelley, a Georgia boy, who is now pastor of the First Baptist church of Raleigh, N. C.

For several years the convention has been meeting in the border cities of its territory. In 1910 it met in Baltimore. In 1911 in Jacksonville, in 1912 in Oklahoma City and in 1913 in St. Louis. The question of the next place of meeting is already being discussed. It will meet somewhere toward the center of the territory. From present indications Nashville will be selected as the place of meeting. This will make it possible for many brethren who are unable to attend the meetings in the border cities to be present. This will also make the meetings more democratic, as they ought to be, and will not tend to localize them.

NEW BUILDING PLANNED.

The chief reason for urging Nashville is that it is the home of the Sunday school board, the only money-maker connected with the convention, and that board hopes to present to the body a splendid new building which is now in process of construction. It is to be a costly edifice, one that will do credit to the Baptists of the south and will greatly facilitate the growing business of the board. A number of other cities that desired the next convention have withdrawn in favor of Nashville and it will doubtless be the unanimous choice of the body.

The convention will be called upon to settle another question that has bobbed up for a number of sessions and that is a permanent place of meeting. A number of brethren have been in favor of selecting some place near the center of the territory, Nashville, Chattanooga or Atlanta, and erecting there a permanent building in which the yearly meetings could be held.

A committee was appointed at the last meeting to report as to the feasibility of this pain. Chattanooga has been pressing her claims for consideration, but the convention will turn down any such movement. It would destroy the democracy of the body and place it in the hands of a few, instead of being run by the many.

EQUIPMENT FOR PASTORS.

Another matter of importance will be the report of a committee appointed to see if it is not possible to secure better equipment for the Baptist pastors of the south. This committee consists of B. W. Spillman, of North Carolina; W. J. McGlothlin, of Kentucky; R. M. Inlow, of Tennessee; Z. T. Cody, of South Carolina, and T. P. Bell, of Georgia.

In a recent address to the Baptists of the south, the committee calls attention to the poor equipment of the pastors. This is due largely to the meager salaries paid them. A typical case is cited of a college graduate who has taken a course in the seminary to fit him for his work as a leader of his denomination. He accepted a call to a church in a thriving town. His salary was but two-thirds the salary of the negro who swept the room and built the fires and shined the shoes of the members of a club just a half block from the church house. This preacher and many others preach in houses costing thousands of dollars and yet the study in which their sermons are prepared is so poorly furnished that one hundred dollars would cover the value of all the furniture. Attention is called to the fact that even if the pastors did furnish their homes, the furniture would be broken up and ruined in one or two moves.

HOMES FOR PASTORS.

The committee hopes to create such a sentiment among Baptists that the homes of the pastors will be kept in good repair, kept painted and that they shall be well-furnished so that no pastor will need to move his furniture pastor will need to move his furniture from place to place, but can go into a well-kept, well-furnished home. The committee thinks the people are able and willing to do this work if some one in each church will take the lead in this much-needed reformation.

FINANCIAL REPORT.

The minor note of the coming convention will be the financial report. It will be shown in the report of the foreign mission board that the churches have contributed this year for this work about $10,000 less than was given last year. The foreign work of southern Baptists has grown in a wonderful manner. They now have nearly a million dollars' worth of equipment in foreign lands. There are today nearly thirty foreign fields belonging to this convention.

MISSIONS.

The Georgia churches gave to foreign missions this year something over $60,000, while their gifts last year amounted to $79,000. Tennessee gave $35,000 last year and only $31,000 this year, while the general contributions fell off the women of the convention gave about $11,000 more this year than last.

There are some discouraging features confronting the brethren as they go up to this meeting, but they will be overcome and this convention will go down in history as one of the best ever held.

This voile has sold over our counters for $3.50 a yard, so the $3.50 valuation is not guessed at. Extraordinary bargain, of course, at 98c; but remember, this is a week of wonderful values in our Lace and Embroidery Section. Here are some of the other "plums:"

A Clearaway of New Neckwear

"New Neckwear" in the sense that every piece is of this Spring, arriving since February.

The Halved Prices are accounted for by the fact that some pieces are counter-tossed, or show signs of handling. Other pieces are the tag ends of quick selling lines. A little bit of everything is represented:

Sunshine collars, coat and collar sets, guimpes, yokes, jabots, Dutch collars, etc. Variously in lawn, linen and lingeries; embroidery, lace and embroidery trimmed. White and colors. The price tickets will read:

(Main Floor, Right.)

SILK PRICES Slashed to 49c

Former Prices Up to $1.50, Now

Snip, snip! Scissors have been working overtime, the past two weeks. As a result, many lines have dwindled, color lines have become broken, price lots have been depleted. For one cause and another, then, we group the following silks to sell at 49c. Look them over, they tell of big savings:

49c

$1.50 silk and wool crepes—silk warp, wool filling. Soft and crepe, drape delightfully. 44 in. wide. Gray, rose, tan, chasseur, voilet.
59c to $1 kimono silks—splendid quality silk from one of America's best makers. Allover patterns and borders in pretty kimono and floral patterns. Leading colors. 30 in. 49c.
85c to $1.25 silks—odd lots of fancy taffetas and messalines in various colors and combinations, 49c.
85c foulards—spot proof, not to hurt by rain drops. Neat patterns, allover and spaced designs. Blues, grays, rose, Copenhagen, brown. In the same lot are a few solid color messalines in odd shades.

P. S.—While this is the best item in the May Silk Sale, it is by no means the only good value. There are almost a score of others, including the most fashionable silks. Savings generally are a fourth to a half.

(Ready at 8.30, Silk Annex, Main Floor, Left.)

OLD GUARD PREPARES FOR PEACE MISSION

Captain and Quartermaster Rollin H. Jones, of the old guard of the Gate City Guard, announces that the proposition of members who will go on the peaceching visit to the Eastern cities will probably be larger than was at first expected.

Several members of Atlanta's distinguished military organization, who were originally not able to make their plans so as to take in the trip, have now made arrangements to go, and several more who will be in the east at the time are planning to join the command at Washington.

So far as is known here, the old guard will be the first military organization in the United States to enjoy the honor of being welcomed to the White House at a special reception by President and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

All the details for the big trip are being worked out satisfactorily along the lines originally planned. The entire battalion, consisting of 120 or more men, will assemble in full dress uniform at the Piedmont hotel next Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock. They will march to the Terminal station, escorted by a band, by officers of the Seventeenth regiment at Fort McPherson and by national guard officers. In every city which they visit they will be met at the train by music and military organizations.

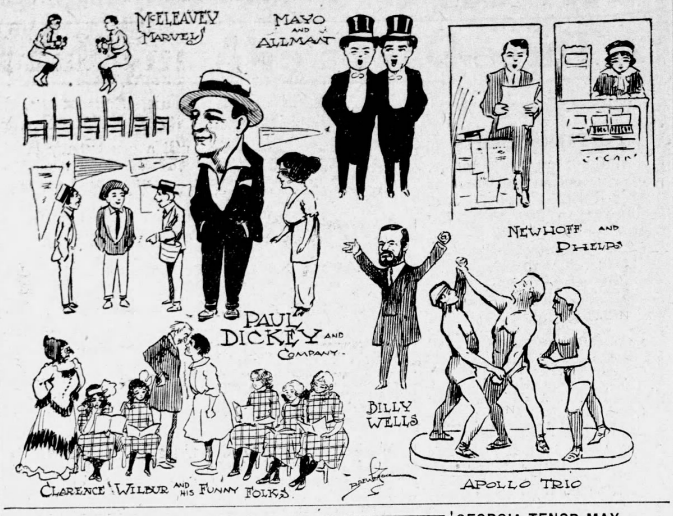
WITH CARTOONIST BREWERTON AT THE FORSYTH



IN LOCAL THEATERS

ATLANTA—"Are You a Mason?"
FORSYTH—Vaudeville.
BIJOU—Vaudeville and Pictures.

Paul Dickey, an ex-football star of the University of Michigan, got off his feet in good shape Monday night, and scored a touchdown, as the parlance of the gridiron goes, but the score this time was not made on any football field, but the stage of the Forsyth. There Dickey and a clever bunch of players are presenting a scream of a farce, based on college life, entitled "The Come Back," which is this week's headliner.

The play was evidently taken from life, for a similar stunt was enacted at the University of Georgia years ago, when a fake duel took place right on Milledge avenue. Dickey has a pretty little leading lady, and his support is altogether excellent. His young men look their parts—that of college bred men. Dickey is a handsome young man, and has enough ability to warrant his acting in the legitimate if he should care to forsake the two-a-day. The play took the house by storm, and he responded to half a dozen curtain calls Monday night. The story shows how the freshman turned the trick on his hazers, and he was aided cleverly by the pretty girl "just around the corner."

Billy K. Wells, in "You Can't Do It," started off a little slow, but he made a real grandstand finish. His encore had as much fun as it is possible to chuck in the few minutes he amused the audience.

The Apollo Trio show some wonderful athletes, who posed and did some great feats of athletic strength. Their bodies are covered with a bronze solution, and their different poses of Roman masterpieces were as unlifelike as it is possible to get a living picture to be. This same stunt was tried out in the courts of New York City years ago, when living pictures first took the country by storm. When the living bronzes first appeared on Broadway, Anthony Comstock's crusade pounced down on them, and all of the models, who were all men, were taken into court. They won their case by proving to the magistrate that their bodies were covered, though only by a "coat of bronze."

Newhoff and Phelps have a clever skit, and sing a very foolish song, but as long as the song writers produce such trucks the actors can't be blamed for singing them, and especially when they appeal to a large part of their hearers. The male member of the duo had an unusually sweet voice.

Other acts on the bill, which is entertaining all the way through, are McAleavey Marvels, Clarence Wilbur and his "Sunny Folks," and Mayo and Allman. The last named team is composed of two men who sing well.

There are laughs and laughs, but every manner of giggles and chuckle swept over the audience at the Atlanta theater Monday night, when the Billy Long Stock company presented the farce "Are You a Mason?" which will be the attraction there the remainder of the week.

It is a very funny show. The complications which arise when three make-believe Masons and one real one take the stage for three acts and strive at every moment to deceive their wives and mothers-in-law and sweethearts into thinking them what they are not, are better and more easily seen than described.

The play is presented unusually well for a stock company. There was little stumbling or hesitation to betray that the players had not become very familiar with their lines, and the members seemed peculiarly adapted to their parts.

Miss Long and her leading man, Edwin Vail, Ralph Marthy, Kathdyn Shelton and Miss Agnes Tinsley Harrison, the Atlanta girl, all starred in their respective roles.

GEORGIA TENOR MAY SING WITH ABORN CO.

O. H. Cooke, of Thomasville, Hailed as "Southern Caruso," Completes Study in N. Y.

O. H. Cooke, of Thomasville, Georgia's famous tenor singer who was hailed several years ago as the "Southern Caruso," has returned to his native state after two years' study in New York under Oscar Sanger and other masters.

Mr. Cooke, or "Boots," as he is known to his Atlanta friends, dropped off in Atlanta for several days with his friends in this city before going home where he will visit relatives. He is the son of A. H. Cooke, of Thomasville, one of the leading politicians of that section, and a nephew of Roscoe Luke, mayor of Thomasville.

During Mr. Cooke's study in New York he was the center of interest at many concerts, and drew favorable criticisms from some of the leading critics. He acted under Mildenberg, in Carnegie hall, and learned the tenor scores in "Faust," "Carmen" and "Butterfly."

His voice attracted such attention in New York as to draw an offer from the Aborn Opera company for next season. This offer is being considered by the Georgia tenor, and Mr. Cooke may be seen this winter with some of the leading English singers of America.

ORANGE OFFICIALS PRAISE ATLANTA SEWAGE SYSTEM

Will Recommend That Their City Build the Same Type of Purification Plants

The Orange, N. J., councilmen were so impressed with Atlanta's new system of sewage purification, after an inspection of the three plants Monday, that they announced their intention to recommend the system for their city.

They spent practically the whole day going over the system. First they went to Proctor creek plant, which is completed and in operation. Next they went to the Peachtree creek plant, which is nearing completion. Last they went to the Entrenchment creek plant, which is something over half completed. By this program they were enabled to see plants in three different stages. They got a line on both the construction and the operation.

After touring the plants the party were taken to lunch at the Capital City club, with W. J. Davis as host, and in the afternon they went to the Cyclorama in Grant park, to the city prison, and to other points of interest.

Henry B. Stetson, leader of the party, said some of them were not favorable to the system before coming to Atlanta, but what they saw here convinced them that the system is the best of all up to this time, and they were going to vote for its adoption by the city of Orange.

Incidentally, Mr. Stetson spoke in the most enthusaistic terms of Atlanta's growth and industry. "This is certainly one of the most remarkable cities I ever saw," said he. "It is the city for the manufactories of the world."

Mr. Christhilf has been highly recommended to the public works committee, and he will be given charge, it is stated, of the pavement binder work which is to be done by the convicts. The county commissioners some time back instructed the public works committee to have a man look after this feature of street paving.

Since arriving in this city, Mr. Christhilf has made an informal tour of inspection of the paving of Peachtree street, now in progress as well as other streets where work is going on. He was accompanied on his tour by Captain Donaldson, Shelby Smith and S. B. Turman.

FOUR TRAINMEN INJURED IN HEAD-ON COLLISION

MOBILE, Ala., May 13.—Passenger train No. 103 of the Mobile and Ohio, Montgomery branch and an extra freight train collided head-on at Vicks, Ala., late yesterday afternoon, both engines being practically demolished. The crews of both locomotives jumped when it was seen that a collision was inevitable, and four were injured, two seriously.

The accident was caused by the crew of the freight train overlooking the schedule of the passenger, which was running about fifteen minutes late. Traffic was tied up on the line until early this morning. The passengers on the local were badly shaken up, but none was injured.

NEGROES TESTIFY THEY SAW MAN SHOOT WEBB

Ten negroes caught in the raid of a crap game on Alexander street Saturday night faced the recorder Monday afternoon on the charge of gaming, and after a long trial were bound over to the high courts under a bond of $100 each.

In the course of the trial five of the alleged gamblers told Judge Broyles that they saw "Handy Lefter," one of the crowd, shoot down Detective Webb, who is now in the Grady hospital in a serious condition. The negro who did the shooting so far has escaped arrest.

"Corn Club" Smith

is a great man. Ask anybody from Mississippi. Yet "Corn Club" Smith never painted a masterpiece or wrote a classic or went to Congress.

What "Corn Club" Smith did was this: he showed the farmers of Mississippi the REAL way to grow crops.

And now everybody in Mississippi is boosting for "Corn Club" Smith.

We believe you'd shout for a man who showed you and your neighbors how to double or treble your yearly income.

A most interesting character is "Corn Club" Smith. A man well worth knowing. If you want to make his acquaintance, read Peter Macfarlane's great story, "Everyday Americans" in the current number of Collier's Weekly.

The Triangle Fire

Geraldine's Education

By Cora Davis—There's a note in this story that will strike a chord in the heart of every motherly woman, and of every man who loves children. But the pathos of misunderstood Geraldine has a relief of humor in the characterization of Geraldine's mother. It is Mrs. Davis's first story, although you would not guess it if you were not told.

COUNTY WILL TAKE OVER HARRIETT HAWKES HOME

County Board Committee Favors Plan to Enlarge Home for Girls

At a meeting of the alms and juvenile committee of the county board Tuesday morning it was decided to report favorably to the board Thursday on the project of taking over the Harriett Hawkes home, conducted by private parties, as a county institution, and there to erect a suitable building for the care of wayward girls.

Prof. T. A. E. Means, superintendent of the Hapeville reformatory for boys, will have charge of this institution in connection with his work as superintendent of similar institutions in Fulton county. The trustees of the home will sit with the county board as an advisory board.

The county will take over $12,000 in subscriptions which have been raised for the Harriett Hawkes home, and will start at once grading for the new building which will be erected on the fifty acres of ground on Stewart avenue.

The taking over of the Harriett Hawkes home by the county will mean the abandonment of the proposition to erect a home for wayward girls on a tract of 500 acres near the Chattahoochee river. Instead, that site will probably be used for a negro juvenile reformatory.

U. S. JUDGE REFUSES TO TIE UP CITY BOND FUND

On the ground that Atlanta is solvent and is liable for its debts, Judge Newman Tuesday morning refused to grant a petition of the Noll Construction company that the city be enjoined from diverting certain moneys of its $2,000,000 bond issue. The construction company claims that $42,000 is due it from the city in the building of the Intrenchment Creek sewage disposal plant. It wanted the bond money tied up until its claim could be sued and adjudicated. C. P. Goree represented the petitioners, and J. L. Mayson, city attorney, represented the city of Atlanta.

NO MORE COLD STORAGE OF BEER KEGS IN ROME

Atlantic Ice and Coal Corporation Will Shut Refrigerators to Beer Parties

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

ROME, Ga., May 13.—Local prohibitionists are elated over the published determination of the Atlantic Ice and Coal corporation to discontinue after May 15 the cold storage of beer for individuals, firms or corporations for any purpose. The company takes this action voluntarily, and after having fought the matter out through the courts.

Two years ago an injunction was taken out against the corporation to prevent the storage of beer, and it was overruled by the superior court of the state of Georgia, the decision holding that the company had the right to store the beer with other cold storage products in public.

Public sentiment is given as the reason for the new departure by the officers of the company. Judge Moses Wright, in a recent charge to the grand jury, held that the method commonly pursued by crowds of men meeting each afternoon and raising a purse for the beer they consumed was illegal. This ruling, together with the action of the cold storage concern, will, it is believed, greatly reduce the number of "keg parties" in Rome.

JERSEY SENATE KILLS JURY REFORM BILL

Measure Favored by President Wilson Lacked One Vote for Passage

(By Associated Press.)

TRENTON, N. J., May 13.—The senate today defeated the jury reform bill passed yesterday by the house. Attached to it was an amendment providing for referendum and the statement was made that the bill as amended ha been approved by Joseph P. Tumulty, president Wilson's secretary.

Today the Republican senators voted solidly against it. The Democrats could muster only ten votes in its favor, eleven being necessary to pass the measure.

Previously the jury reform bill favored by the Republicans was defeated, the Democrats all voting against it.

The outlook for the passage of jury reform legislation at the extraordinary session of the legislature is not bright.

CINCINNATI, May 13.—J. B. Bell, a traveling salesman of Greenville, Miss., and said to be a cousin of General J. DURAND NOT ALLOWED TO APPOINT GIN INSPECTORS

While W. J. Harris' Name Is Pending in Senate, Democrats Will Fill Vacancies

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The department of commerce, under the direction of Assistant Secretary Sweet, has called upon the Democratic congressmen from the south for recommendations for gin inspectors in the several counties of their respective district. The salaries of these inspectorships are based upon the cotton ginned in the several counties, and in Georgia the compensation ranged from about $50 to $800 a year.

The gin inspectors work under the immediate supervision of the census bureau, and heretofore they have been appointed by the director of the census. The assistant secretary of the commerce department has taken the matter into his hands because of general objections to allowing E. Dana Durand to control these offices on the eve of his retirement.

GREENVILLE HORSE SHOW TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Georgia Horses Will Be Big Feature of Exhibition in South Carolina City

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 13.—Next week, May 19-24, will be one of especial activity in Greenville. The chamber of commerce, the board of health, the horse show association, are all uniting forces to make the week one of the greatest to all visitors; railroads have granted reduced rates, and Greenville hotels have made special arrangements to accommodate all comers.

On May 20, 21 and 22, the Greenville Horse Show association, which is the oldest organization of its kind in the south, will hold its annual exhibition, and to date there are more than 150 entries, coming from Georgia, North Carolina, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, New York and from practically all sections of the state.

Under the direction of Dr. Clarence E. Smith, city superintendent of health, aggressive efforts have been put forth to bring here a large number of pure food exhibits together with exhibits from boards of health of various cities. The success of this feature is already assured as the largest municipal congress ever held in the state will be in session here during the week, attended by representatives from a dozen or more states, and as well from the federal departments at Washington.

A big farmers' rally, the State Association of Elks and Home Coming week, together with the Made-in-Greenville exposition, will fill the week with activities.

SLAYER OF BROOKS LANE LYNCHED AT HOGANSVILLE

Sheriff Overpowered and Negro Swung to Tree—Town Is Quiet Tuesday

HOGANSVILLE, Ga., May 13.—Sam Owensby, the negro who yesterday afternoon killed Brooks Lane, prominent planter of this county, was taken from the jail here late last night, swung to a tree and his body riddled with bullets.

The crowd overpowered the sheriff and quietly took the negro to the outskirts of the village. The crowd dispersed as soon as it was satisfied that the negro was dead, and there is no excitement here this morning.

Brooks Lane, who was killed by the negro, was the son of J. E. Lane, a prominent planter living near Hogansville.

GOVERNMENT ROAD IN ALASKA A FOLLY

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Government construction, operation or ownership of a railroad in Alaska would be folly, F. C. Jenmett, representing bondholders of the Alaska Northern railroad, told the senate territories committee today. At the same time he declared private capital would extend the road now existing out of Seward to the Matanooska coal fields, if the navy department would create a naval coal reserve theer and operate it through the bureau of mines or by contract.

BANDIT TRIED TO ROB ADOLPHUS BUSCH'S CAR

(By Associated Press.)

ST. LOUIS, May 13.—When Adolphus Busch, the millionaire brewer, who is ill, reached here today from California, he was able to walk down the steps of his private car to a wheel chair in which he was taken to a waiting automobile.

Members of the party had heard of the attempt of a man to board the Busch City last night. The intruder was shoved away by a flagman. It was believed the man aimed to rob the sick brewer.

POISONING FROM FOOD

Every Bite May Poison — All Could Be Methuselahs If We Did Not Shorten Life by Self-Poisoning.

All food eaten leaves in the stomach some waste, unused particles. This waste ferments and generates uric acid, and when uric acid gets in the blood it poisons the system. This is termed Autotoxemia, or Self-Poisoning. Constipation, indigestion, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, languidness and a weakened physical condition result. Eliminate Autotoxemia, and we could live to be hundreds of years old.

JACOBS' LIVER SALT flushes stomach and bowels, dissolves the uric acid which has accumulated and expels it with the fermenting waste.

Take JACOBS' LIVER SALT in the morning before breakfast. You will do a better day's work, and with the consciousness that your health is safeguarded against any indiscretion in eating.

JACOBS' LIVER SALT is better than calomel for constipation and biliousness. Acts quickly and more thoroughly, requiring no cleansing after-dose; causes no after-danger of salivation; never gripes or nauseates. No other liver medicine is equal to it; don't take the inferior substitute that may be offered. All druggists should have the genuine JACOBS' LIVER SALT. 25c. If yours cannot supply you, full size jar mailed upon receipt of price, postage prepaid.—(Advt.)

CONGRESSMAN LINDQUIST WANTS PURE FOOD SHOE BILL PASSED

Wants Government to Require Correct Labels on "Leather" Shoes Built of Paper and "Silks" Made of Gun-Cotton

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—With "leather" shoes made of paper, and "silk" goods made of gun cotton, Congressman F. O. Lindquist, of Michigan, believes he will be able to convince doubting legislators that his pure leather and fabric measure should be enacted into law. After months of preparation, Mr. Lindquist announced today that the final touches had been put on his bill, and that it would be introduced immediately. As soon as it is reformed by the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, he proposes to begin a campaign to secure its early consideration. The members of that committee have not been appointed, but they will be named within the next few weeks.

Mr. Lindquist has prepared an elaborate display as an argument for his bill. He has soles of adulterated leather, which crack almost in two when they are bent. Beside them he has soles of the same weight, which are made of solid leather, but which are so pliable they can be bent double without injury. He has cross sections of shoes, showing that some heavily advertised brands are made for the most part of paper. The counters are of paper, all but the last two layers of the heels are paper, and even the soles are more than half paper.

FILLED WITH GLUCOSE.

Mr. Lindquist says he is prepared to show that many light cheap leathers are "filled" with glucose, so as to make them heavy and salable as substantial goods. He claims that the material with which the goods are treated costs but 2 cents a pound. The additional weight brings the dealer 40 cents or a profit of 37 cents because of the adulteration.

There are many "fakes," which Mr. Lindquist says he will show the committee. He has one leather made of fine bits of leather, pressed together in such a way that it passes for a solid piece. He has paper soles, highly polished which deceive the sophisticated.

Mr. Lindquist claims that some of the worst deceptions are found in the so-called "silks" of today. He contends that one concern, which for years supplied American markets with "silks" made of gun cotton on the European side, has opened a factory on this side of the Atlantic and is doing a big business.

WANTS TO LABEL GOODS.

It is the Michigan man's idea to guarantee pure leathers and fabrics to the consuming public today in much the same way that they are guaranteed pure food. He proposes that every garment, which enters interstate commerce, shall be labeled, the label showing whether it is the "real" article or a counterfeit. If a suit is of pure wool he proposes the label shall tell the story; if it is not, then the label must tell what part of it is of cotton or shoddy.

Mr. Lindquist, who was elected on the mail order plan, says he has sent out nearly 2,000,000 pieces of literature on his bill. He says he has covered every congressional district with requests that the people living in them write to their congressman in support of the bill.

"I have the promise of over 6,000 women's clubs to co-operate with me," said Mr. Lindquist. "I am satisfied that the countrywide interest will result in the passage of this bill. Our government has long maintained a department for the purpose of testing and analyzing the various products purchased under contract for government supplies. This is done to protect the government against fraudulent practices and counterfeit goods. The public demands the same protection."

Missing Verses of New Testament Are Found Over in Egypt

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, May 13.—Some long missing verses of the New Testament are included in manuscripts of the gospel discovered in Egypt six years ago and purchased by Charles L. Freer, of Detroit, Mich., according to a study made of the Freer manuscripts by the Times.

A fac simile of the writings has been presented to the British museum by the University of Michigan, to which Mr. Freer assigned the task of publication, and according to the Times' study, there have been found in the gospel of St. Mark several verses which occur in no other known manuscript of the New Testament, although they were known to St. Jerome, who quotes part of them.

In the Freer manuscript after the passage in which it is said that Jesus upbraided His disciples for their unbelief, the text continues as follows:

"And they excused themselves, saying that this age of lawlessness and unbelief is under Satan, who through the agency of unclean spirits suffers not the true power of God to be apprehended.

"For because, said they unto Christ, reveal at once thy righteousness.

"And Christ said unto them, the limit of the years of the powers of Satan is (not) fulfilled, but it draweth near. (The text here and elsewhere is corrupt.)

"For the sake of those that have sinned was I given up unto death that they may return unto the truth and sin no more, but may inherit the spiritual and incorruptible glory of righteousness in heaven."

A number of variations in other portions of the New Testament are also pointed out by the Times in the Freer manuscripts.

Baby Is Kept All Night By Insane Negro Woman

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 13.—Lucile Arbed, the year-and-a-half-old baby kidnaped by an insane negress yesterday morning, was found in a pitiable condition this morning at 5:30, near an abandoned race track just outside the city, still in custody of the woman. The baby's muffled cries directed the searchers to a shed where the woman was trying to hush it. The little one was almost starved, and showed evidence of abuse, but it was not maimed, as the woman had telephoned.

The child was restored to the frantic mother at daybreak and the negress locked up. The police believe that others were concerned in the kidnaping, as a demand for money had been made by telephone during the night by an unidentified negress

300 MILES OF ROAD TO BE WORKED IN COLQUITT

Six Road Gangs Now Busy, "Good Roads at Any Price," Say Farmers

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

MOULTRIE, Ga., May 13.—The commissioners of Colquitt county are undertaking to work 300 miles of road this year. One hundred miles of this will be number one road construction—as good as the best road work being done in the state, while 200 miles will be Class B roads, the work being done with free labor. Six well equipped road gangs are now in operation, in as many different parts of the county. Two convict gangs do the highest grade work on the mail lines of road, while four free labor squads work the district roads.

In addition to the road construction, the commissioners are putting in operation equipment and system for maintaining the roads, and they will also build a number of steel bridges during the year. Farmers of the county have come to realize the advantage of good roads, and they are demanding them at almost any price.

MONROE, Ga., May 13.—At a creditors' meeting, held before the referee, Judge, N. L. Hutchins, in Lawrenceville, Saturday, May 10, the trustee, Hon B. S. Walker was requested to have the Social Circle cotton mill resold.

The mill will be resoult in Monroe, Ga., on the first day of July.

PENROSE BEGINS FIGHT IN SENATE ON TARIFF

Democrats Called to Senate in Hurry to Prevent Public Hearings by Committee

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The tariff fight was resumed today in the senate on the motion of Senator Penrose to refer the Underwood bill to the finance committee with instructions for public hearings.

Chairman Simmons, of the finance committee, was busy early in the day urging all Democratic members to be on hand in case the question should come to a vote and he felt confident that the Republicans' first move against the majority would be checked.

Some Republicans who have declared they would not support the Penrose amendment argue that hearings on a tariff for revenue bill would avail nothing and that, were the bill written from a protective standpoint, they would favor hearings.

Senator Penrose and other Republican senators planned to talk on the amendment at length when the senate convened, and it looked as though it might be several days before a vote was reached.

President Wilson has taken the position that he ought not commit himself in any way with respect to numerous minor amendments to the tariff bill, being suggested by Democrats.

Secretary Redfield had a half hour's talk with the president before the cabinet meeting today and declared he believed unimportant changes would be made but thought if the president consented to certain ones, he would be besieged with requests to open up other schedules.

Secretary Redfield said that since it had become known that an inquiry was to be made into wages and industrial conditions in connection with the tariff bill, some requests had come from manufacturers themselves inviting investigation.

These, Mr. Redfield declared, were based, however, more on the belief that the inquiry would be the basis for tariff rates than an examination as to the effects of the bill after it had become law.

CHARGES OF PEONAGE IN W. VIRGINIA COAL FIELDS

Senator Kern Hears Charges Made by Representatives of Labor and Mine Unions

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Charges of peonage, "medieval feudalism," and oppression of the workers in the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek coal fields of West Virginia were laid before Senator Kern today by representatives of the State Federation of Labor and Miners' unions.

The senator expected to use the charges in support of his resolution for a congressional investigation of the situation. Copies of resolutions adopted by the miners, declaring "a Baptist church could not be organized without consent of the forty-three mine managers," were left with the senator.

POLICE SEARCH FOR MISSING MESSENGER

(By Associated Press.)

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 13.—Harry Thomas McLaughin, aged twenty-four, a former express messenger, who is charged with having absconded with between $10,000 and $12,000 in gold and silver certicate currency, is being sought by local police and a detective agency. He is said to have receipted for several packages of money at Belleveron and Charleroi, Pa., on last Tuesday. When he reached this city he made his usual report and it is alleged disappeared. The banks to which the money was consigned have not yet been able to check up the entire amount and the exact shortage can not be accurately stated.

400 KILLED IN BATTLE NEAR GUAYMAS, MEXICO

Federals Receive Reinforcements and Expect Aid From Gunboat in Harbor

(By Associated Press.)

NOGALES, Ariz., May 13.—Agents of the Huerta government here assert they have received word that more federal reinforcements have arrived by boat at Guaymas and that the main group besieged a few miles north will be able to work its way into the gulf town.

The Mexican gunboat Guerrero, lying in the harbor, is expected to assist the federal garrison.

The most conservative estimate of the killed in the fighting above Guaymas place the dead at 400.

(By Associated Press.)

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, May 13.—Rebels under Julian Medlana, a former jefe politico, today occupied the town of Hostotpaquillo, sixty miles northwest of Guadalajara, and the center of the most important mining district of Jalisco.

The small garrison and townspeople held off the rebels for four hours. Six federal soldiers were killed. When the insurgents entered Hostotloquillo they looted the stores and burned the court house. Several big American camps are in that vicinity.

(By Associated Press.)

HARRA PATERSON, N. J., May 13.—A third unsuccessful attempt to wreck an Erie passenger train was made here today. Trainmen balked two men who tried to uncouple coaches from the locomotive. They escaped.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Police Commissioner Waldo begins today an investigation of reports that men high in the uniformed police force were presented with free transportation by the Yellow Taxicab company under the guise of charge accounts.

These accounts, according to the company's books, were never paid, although the company sent each of the men a receipted bill every month. Two inspectors and two captains were the first to be questioned by Mr. Waldo.

The district attorney has unearthed evidence tending to show that certain city employes have been presented with taxi cab rides which would have cost them $25,000 annually. The company has many private stands in the streets.

Prince of Peace Is Captain of Bryan's Super-Dreadnaught

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 13.—Foreign delegates in this country preparing for the centenary celebration of the treaty of Ghent departed today for Philadelphia.

Secretary Bryan today bade the delegates from the British empire farewell in the name of the United States. In the course of his remarks he said the preparations for the peace celebration were in the nature of the building of the greatest superdreadnaught, and that it was called "Friendship."

"Its compass is the heart," said Mr. Bryan in describing the ship of peace. "Its shell carry good will, its missiles are projected by the smokeless powder of love, its captain is the prince of peace.

"I want you to drink with me to the battleship of Friendship. No target will withstand that which Friendship sends abroad."

Mr. John A. Stewart, chairman of the American executive committee, said a meeting would be held in New York May 23, when plans would be formulated for raising several million dollars for the American features of the proposed celebration.

GEORGIA DIOCESE MEETS IN AUGUSTA WEDNESDAY

Delegates are in Augusta from Savannah, Brunswick, Darien, Thomasville, Albany, Valdosta and other places. The feature of the convention is expected to be the annual address of the Right Rev. A resolution will be introduced at the convention providing that health certificates be required before couples are married.

SUGGESTS MEMORIAL FOR PANAMA CANAL

Editor The Journal: The Panama canal, most stupendous undertaking of its kind ever attempted, should have suitable memorial to take form of statue (heroic proportions) in most prominent position on Atlantic side, facing ocean, in memory of Alexander Von Hombolt, first person to foresee possibility of canal, with arch overhead inscribed: "The End Crowns All; or Conquest Over Difficulties."

Humbolt's name at foot of statue. Superiority of statue over international celebration or convention is that these pass away, while a statue would be permanent. Regarding a book, few would read it.

Would like to be at opening of Panama. Have passed through Suez.

HIGH COURT AFFIRMS A HANGING IN FULTON CO.

The sentence of death pronounced on Oscar Dewberry in the Fulton criminal court on a verdict returned October 2, for the murder of Horace Dodson on May 25 of last year, was affirmed Tuesday by the state supreme court.

The condemned man is a negro. He was convicted of killing Dodson, a white youth, by cutting him to death.

A man living at Auburn, New York, had a severe attack of kidney and bladder trouble. Being a working man, not wanting to lose time, nor run up a heavy doctor's bill, he cured himself completely by using Foley Kidney Pills. A year later he says: "It is a pleasure to report that the cure was permanent." He has had no return whatever of the pain, backache and burning. His name is J. A. Farmer, and he says: "Of course I recommend Foley Kidneys Pills as a very effective cure for kidney and bladder trouble." For sale by all dealers.—(Advt.)

UNITED BRETHREN MAY ELIMINATE A BISHOP

DECATUR, Ill., May 13.—United Brethren conference politics broke loose here today when the report of the superintendency committee recommending the merging of the southern district with the other districts was considered. Friends of Bishop Carter, of Chattanooga, Tenn., charged that the committee was attempting to retire him and announced his determination of putting up a bitter fight to keep his territory intact. It is certain that if the committee report is adopted he will not be reelected bishop.

The committee also recommended the election of a missionary bishop.

GUATEMALA COERCED BY ENGLISH WARSHIP?

British Minister Instructed to Call Battleship to Force Payment of Debt

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, May 13.—The British foreign office is hopeful of an early settlement of the British claims against Guatemala. The last dispatches received from the British minister indicated that a satisfactory reply to the British demand was anticipated.

The British minister's instructions authorize him to call on a British warship should he think its presence in Guatemala waters desirable. Therefore, although the foreign office had not, as late as today, been advised that the British cruiser Aeolus had departed from Kingston, Jamaica, for Puerto Barrios, it is thought quite likely that the British minister has called upon her commander to hasten, by the appearance of the vessel, the payment of the long overdue debt.

Although the matter is considered as one absolutely between Great British and Guatemala, the United States government has been advised of the British intention to insist upon the payment of the bondholders. Guatemala's failure to do this as promised at the end of April has, it is stated in official circles, only made the British ministers notes to the Guatemalan government more insistent.

FALLS THREE STORIES BUT BREAKS NO BONES

A. H. Harrison Slips From Swinging Ladder and Is Hurled From Roof to Ground

A. H. Harrison, a painter in the employ of William Wilson, the decorator, was badly hurt in a fall of three stories Tuesday morning at the home of Dr. Armstrong, near the corner of Woodward avenue and Washington streets.

Harrison was working on the gables of the roof, his only support being a swinging ladder. The ropes on the ladder became loosened and he fell forward, striking the back of the ladder and hitting a stone wall before reaching the ground.

Passersby rushed to his assistance, and he was taken to the Atlanta hospital in an unconscious condition. He had not recovered consciousness by 1 o'clock, it was stated at the hospital. It was said, however, that he had sustained no fractured bones. His shoulders and one hip were badly bruised.

A Sparkling, Brilliant Sale of Jewelry

We Do Not Know That Prices Have Ever Been Treated in Any Such Fashion

A clearaway in the Jewelry section tomorrow! And what a clearaway it will be!

50c Belt pins 10c; $1.00 to $2.50 Brooches for 25c; $3.00 Vanities for 50c; $7.50 La Vallieres for $2.00, etc., etc., etc., including Watches, Watch Fobs, Hat Pins, Scarf Pins, Fan Chains, and the like.

But properly to advertise such a sale as this places us in a dilemma. To do full justice to the radical reductions, the really unheard of prices, it would seem that the jewelry is not right and desirable, so prone is the mind to judge events by past experiences.

In this instance you must not!

You see below what the prices are; the jewelry that they stand for is exquisite, good-taste jewelry, chosen because it possesses those qualities that appeal to a woman's refined sense of ornamentation.

True there are some few pieces that are a bit damaged, but they are the rare exceptions, they figured but slightly in the causes of this sale.

It is a clearaway, a Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. clearaway---and so the prices!

This list below is not so long as it might be. There are others and other prices all reduced on the same scale.

Welcome to the Presbyterians.

All play and no work leaves Jack a broke boy.

President Wilson has no Aldrich or Cannon in congress.

Congratulations!

To the charming resourcefulness of the maids and matrons who conducted yesterday's campaign in behalf of the Sheltering Arms, Atlanta is indebted for still another record—one of the most distinctive and pleasing records she has ever achieved. It was a fine thing to score the world's largest attendance for a grand opera season and to raise more than seventy-five thousand dollars for the Shriners' convention, but it was an even more radiant and gracious deed when all Atlanta opened its heart and its purse to the human cause of a charity for little children.

There are doubtless other communities where Tag Day is observed and where it wins a generous public response, but in this, as in all other enterprises, Atlanta has a way of its own. From breakfast time to dusk, the city was astir with the spirit of giving. There was a tingle of Yuletide in the spring air, as though Santa Claus himself had peeped around the corner of the calendar. All day long the dimes and dollars jingled and they fell not from a few hands as sober contributions but from thousands of hands as cheery and spontaneous offerings. And the result was that when night fell, it found the little wards of the Sheltering Arms many thousand dollars richer than before. That is a record for Tag Day. It is a record of Atlanta's generosity.

Let us remember, however, that though the cause was supremely worthy and the public naturally liberal, this high mark could never have been made, had it not been for the skill and energy and graciousness of those who went forth in its behalf. The mothers and daughters who left the comfort of home for a day and, forgetting their personal interests and pleasure, devoted themselves to this charity—to them, more than to anyone else, is due the credit for the remarkable success of Tag Day in 1913.

It never shines but it produces a drought.

Atlanta is in third place, but then it might be worse. She might be in fourth place.

The railroads are asking for a raise in rates. Just like some people, they want a "raise."

A Cheering Crop Outlook.

As viewed in the May report for food crops the country over is distinctly cheering. The wheat harvest promises to be even more abundant than it was last year. The outlook for a great corn yield is also assuring and in so far as present conditions permit a prophecy a plenteous summer and autumnal for all food products may be expected.

The year 1912 established a new record for staple crops in the United States and we still feel the impetus of prosperity which they gave. There were sections of the South and of Georgia, however, where untoward weather conditions resulted unfortunately; and, though times were exceptionally good in the country at large, these particular districts felt the pinch of circumstance.

There is reason to hope that such will not be the case this year. Certain it is, according to trustworthy reports, that the agricultural outlook is more encouraging in Georgia today than it was a twelvemonth ago.

The State College of Agriculture is advised by its farm demonstration agents that wheat and corn crops are very promising in most of the counties and that extraordinary interest is manifested in the cultivation of food products and the application of advanced agricultural methods. Of particular note is the growth and enthusiasm of the Boys' Corn clubs. These productive institutions have been organized in a majority of the counties and their influence upon farming in general is widely felt.

Perhaps the most significant fact of the year, agriculturally speaking, is the reduction of Georgia's cotton acreage and the devotion of more soil and energy to food supplies.

The college graduate, like congress, will soon be marking time.

Become familiar with the workings of the tariff. It's your duty.

Possibilities are all right in a way, but they never prove anything.

The Balkan Peace Treaty.

Though the Balkan war virtually ended when Adrianople surrendered to the Bulgars, there has been subsequent fighting along the frontiers and several incidents which threatened to entangle the plans for peace have occurred. It is therefore doubly reassuring to learn that Bulgaria, Servia, Greece and Montenegro have all formally accepted the proposal of the Powers and that hostilities will cease entirely pending the consideration of a peace treaty. Envoys from each of these States will proceed immediately to London, there to join with representatives of Turkey and of the larger nations in working out a satisfactory settlement of boundaries, compensations and related issues.

In these proceedings, Turkey will play comparatively a minor and passive part. Utterly defeated by the little States whom she has heretofore so often thwarted in diplomacy, she must now accept rather than dictate or suggest terms; and, in fact, she has thrown herself on the mercy of the Powers, trusting to their own sense of self-interest to vouchsafe her whatever protection or privilege she may secure.

The vital factors in the peace negotiations will be the Balkan allies and the great European Powers. Whatever agreement these may reach as to the division of territory and the adjustment of political problems must be accepted by the Ottoman government. Turkey's European realm will be reduced to a scant fragment of its former extent and Turkish influence will become but a shadow.

One of the most difficult and delicate tasks of the peace conference will be the settlement of questions that have arisen or may arise among the Balkan States themselves. Having defeated the Turks, the Allies are now beginning to look more jealously to their individual interests. Each of them is pressing its own claims as to boundaries and spheres of influence. The determination with which Montenegro stood out for the possession of Scutari is but typical of a general, though less demonstrative, demand for all that can possibly be won and held in the territory to be partitioned.

It is evident, however, that the Powers are acting in effective concert so that their decision on the various issues that may arise will be conclusive. In any event, the big Balkan war is over and all Europe takes a breath of relief.

Put the lid on your peck of trouble.

The bottom of a hill is the easier to reach.

The Progress of Aviation.

It seems but yesterday that Wilbur and Orville Wright demonstrated the feasibility of a heavier-than-air flying machine. Yet, since that first, short swallow-flight, the developments and achievements of the aeroplane have been more rapid perhaps than were ever attained in so short time in any other field of scientific adventure.

The United States war department recently compiled interesting records of the progress of aviation during the past four years. In 1909, according to this report, the greatest height attained by an aeroplane was one thousand, four hundred and fifty feet; today the mark stands at more than twenty thousand feet. The speed record in 1909 was forty-eight miles an hour; within recent months it has been pressed forward to one hundred and eight and nine-tenths miles an hour. The duration of a single continuous flight has been increased from four hours and seventeen minutes to thirteen hours and seventeen minutes. That the security of the aeroplane has also increased is indicated by the fact that the carrying of passengers is far more frequent now than a few years ago. A French aviator recently made a sustained flight of fifty-four miles with five persons in his machine; and it is no uncommon thing for a dirigible to carry a dozen or score of passengers on long trips.

Aviation, though still at a stage that is largely experimental, is achieving steady and substantial results; and when we reflect that within the past few years an airship has sailed across the American continent, has flown around England and over the Alps, we must believe that a brilliant and fruitful future awaits this wondrous art.

Dental Inspection for Atlanta's Public Schools.

It is to be hoped that plans for establishing a system of regular dental inspection in the public schools of Atlanta and Fulton county will soon materialize. Some time ago the Chamber of Commerce, generously assisted by the local society of dental surgeons, inaugurated such a system at two of the schools. The results in these experimental instances have been so pronounced and far-reaching as to leave no doubt whatsoever of the value and the urgent need of extending the work to all of the schools.

The famous physician and scientist, Sir William Osler, is credited with saying that "mouth infections are responsible for more injuries to the human race than alcohol." Certain it is defective teeth and neglected mouths give rise to various ills that frequently undermine health and impair mental, if not moral, efficiency.

Atlanta never took a wiser or more progressive step than when it established medical inspection in its public schools. This good work should now be supplemented with dental inspection.

A CONSUMER'S VIEWS ON SALESMANSHIP

BY DR. FRANK CRANE.

(Copyright, 1913, by Frank Crane.)

I am not a salesman. But I am a good buyer, and have probably purchased more things that I did not want than any man of my age. Hence, it may be interesting to salesmen to listen for a brief spell to a consumer's idea of what constitutes good salesmanship.

First of all, be good natured. I here and now confess that nine-tenths of what induces me to buy is the ability of the seller to jolly me along. Cheerfulness and signs that you feel good, enjoy life, and are full of glee inside, are better than a letter of introduction from Mr. Rockefeller.

Have a thorough knowledge of your goods, also of the other fellow's goods. Learn how they are made and when, and who makes them. Respect your customer's desire to know and fill him up with information.

Don't argue. State facts. Don't arouse oppposition in the buyer's mind. Agree with him, or dodge the issue. Lead him around to some subject where you are at one. I hate to have a seller try to prove to me I'm wrong. Perhaps I am; but I don't like to admit it.

Use plain language. If you are selling automobiles don't talk about carburetors and reciprocating dudads and compound thingumbobs. Go somewhere and learn the English for these things, and how to make them clear to a washerwoman. Never use a term when there is any doubt whether the customer understands it. We don't like to be made to appear ignorant.

Tell the truth. If you are with a firm where you dare not tell the truth, leave it.

Be candid. Do not conceal things. The thing you have to sell has certain merits; it ought to sell on those. To sell a thing upon merits it does not have is poor policy.

Be dependable. Even if you make a casual remark, for instance, that you will send a man a bunch of blotters or a book or a calendar, don't fail to do it. Forgetting is almost as bad as lying. If you promise to come back next Tuesday, do it or send a telegram. Create the impression that you will keep your word if it bankrupts you.

Remember names and faces. If you are not gifted in this respect, get a little book and every evening set down the names of the people you have met and some distinguishing characteristic of each of them. Write down any remarks your customer has made about his family. Study this. It's all a part of the important art of jollying us along.

Have a good appearance. There may be a few people left who like to see a dirty shirt and frayed cuffs, but they are growing scarcer every day.

The art of salesmanship begins in the mind. Think success, think confidence, think a thousand dollars. Why think fifty cents? These thoughts in your brain will ooze out of your face. You will radiate these qualities. The greatest factor in selling is personality. And personality is made by thoughts.

Avoid personal intimacy. Let me talk about myself, and look interested while I am expanding. But don't speak of yourself any more than you can help. Take an axe and chop the pronoun "I" out of your vocabulary. What do you care? Jolly me along.

In fine, be as human as possible. You are not a catalogue nor a printed circular. You draw wages because you are supposed to be a human being. Be it! Don't be huffy, sensitive, impatient, dictatorial, indifferent, egotistic or mechanical. Be a good fellow. Be the kind of man people like to have around.

When you attack a customer aim two inches below his collar bone. If you can make him LIKE you it is far and away better than to try to PROVE anything to his mind. Very probably he hasn't much mind to speak of. But we all have hearts.

Melodiously the duck
Quacks in the wimpling pond;
The husbandman sells his truck
And invests in another bond.
The sanitary cow

And the beautiful milkmaid now
Wears diamonds and silk.

The soft, seductive voice

Bids the heart of her master rejoice—
She has lifted the mortgage again!
The dividends burst into bloom.
The ripening melon is big.
And lightens the hired man's gloom
The squeal of the fattening pig.

JUST SMILES

At the annual fair that is held at a small town in Russia a man observed a gypsy and a Pole haggling over the sale of a horse. When the transaction was over he asked the gypsy how much he had got for the animal. The gypsy opened his hand and showed a 10 ruble note—worth about $5.

"But isn't that very cheap?"

"No," said the gypsy. "The horse is lame."

The man then sought out the Pole, to whom he said, "You have given 10 rubles for a lame horse."

The Pole smiled knowingly and remarked: "He is as sound as you or I. I saw he was badly shod and that was all."

The inquirer returned to the gypsy and reported what the Pole had said. Then, with a significant wink, the gypsy whispered:

"He's as lame as a two legged stool! I had him badly shod on purpose to make people believe that that was the cause of his limp."

When the Pole was told this he seemed for a moment taken aback and hung his head, then he heaved a high and shrugged his shoulders.

"Ah, well," he said, "it's all right—it was a bad 10 ruble note."—Youth's Companion.

The new maid was aghast.

THE INCOME TAX

VI.—Taxation at the Source.

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

The principal objection to the income tax in the United States is the one stated in 1894 by William L. Wilson before Benton McMillin stole a march on him and forced his amendment to the Wilson bill through the house—that it is a tax upon conscience. As will be told in a subsequent article, the house leaders were not in favor of an income tax, and William L. Wilson declared that he favored a corporation tax because the government had means to assess corporations properly, but that he thought it would be difficult to collect income taxes from individuals. He declared that he believed in the equity of such a tax, but not in its practicability.

* * *

What Mr. Wilson sought was means of imposing a tax that would make taxation at its source a possibility. Such a method of collecting the bulk of their income taxes has been found to be successful by a number of governments. In some of the countries which have national income tax laws as much as four-fifths of the total possible revenues from these laws are gathered into the public treasury before the incomes upon which they are a tax reach the bank accounts of their owners.

* * *

Of course one has to look to England for the best example of a successful policy of taxation at the source. There the government does not depend upon personal returns made up by the taxpayers, but requires payment to be made and an accounting rendered to the government by the corporations and other enterprises upon such incomes as are taxable. It is generally agreed that where there is a fixed rate, without graduation or differentiation, the stoppage at the source system is by far the best method. Even at the source of a distinction or differentiation between in the case of a distinction or differentiation between earned and unearned income there is no serious difficulty, but how to harmonize stoppage at the source with graduation is a most intricate problem. For instance, if a man's income is made up of many items—of salary, of interest on bonds, of dividends on stocks, of rents from houses, and profits from a farm—how is the government, under a graduated income tax, to tell how much to deduct as the tax on each item until it knows his whole income? This is one of the many puzzles of harmonizing the two propositions that England is experiencing today. How to stop the tax at its source, and at the same time not to take too much or too little has proved a difficult problem.

* * *

The idea of stopping the income tax at its point of origin is more than a century old, and to England must be given the credit of originating it. At first there was a general practice of giving in incomes in a lump sum; a man simply reported that he had an income of so many pounds sterling, and he was taxed accordingly. Then it came to pass that men so persistently estimated their incomes far below their actual amount, and in order to get a better line on what the incomes of taxpayers really were, incomes were divided up into schedules. It was no longer "How much is your income?" but rather "How much do you get from your bank stock, how much from your company dividends, how much from your rent?" In other words, it became a matter of an itemized account of income rather than a statement of the total.

* * *

The advantage of the system of stopping the tax at its source never was more clearly illustrated than when England first adopted it in 1803. Before that time the tax rate had been 10 per cent. The law that provided for collecting the major portion of the tax at its source also contained a provision cutting the rate in half and making it 5 per cent. And yet the lower rate, with stoppage at the source as a substitute for the lump sum tax, produced practically the same amount of revenue as the higher rate without it.

* * *

Practically every student of the English income tax laws agrees that one of the principal factors in its success has been the principle of stoppage at the source. England has clung tenaciously to that idea from the beginning, and has coupled with it the practice of requiring incomes to be itemized by schedules in such a way that their salient features, at least, may be checked up. Every English tax authority, as was shown by the investigation of 1906, feels that it would be an evil day for England should it decide to give up these two principles of assessment and collection.

* * *

In Germany the situation is a different one. There inquisitorial methods are taken as matter of course, and the people seem to care but little if the revenue authorities do pry into their private affairs. They permit such inquiry into their affairs as never would be tolerated by British subjects or American citizens, and so there is not the great necessity for avoiding inquisitorial investigations that there is in England and the United States. If a German subject reports his income at $3,000 and the tax authorities think it is too low they may ask him what he pays for his telephone, whether he has one in his private apartments, whether he takes a box at the theater, what he does with his income, what he did with the money he got from selling some furniture last year, and a hundred and one other questions, any one of which, if asked of the average American, would tempt him to reply: "It isn't any of your business."

* * *

But Germany is about the only country where stoppage at the source has not proved to be a prime essential to the success of the tax. Everywhere other systems have been tried and pronounced a failure, and when stoppage at the source was written into the law this failure generally has been followed by success. Of course, it is natural that if A pays B a part of B's income, he is not going to perjure himself to save the amount of that payment from becoming known to the revenue authorities. Therefore, it is rather certain to tell just how much income B does get through him. That is why stoppage at the source succeeds where the old system of simply letting B report his income fails.

The Conning Tower

FRANKLIN P. ADAMS.

MONODY ON THE ASTOR HOUSE.

Lament, O Muse, and heave a suspiration;
Make me an epicedium, a threne,
An ode to fit my humid lachrimation,
A dirge ultramarine!
For heavy I, and supercharged with woe,
On reading that the Astor House must go.

Thou noble inn, where oft I (Cries of "Louder!")
Repaired to find a frugal bit of lunch;
Where grew the city's only perfect chowder
And hot Jamaica punch—
So deep my woe that thou art to be razed
I question it can fittingly be phrased.

Farewell, farewell—If Byron I may borrow—
I read of thee in many an Alger tome,
Unthinking that, in age and bowed with sorrow,
I'd spill to thee a pome;
Unknowing that some day I should deplore
The announcement that thou wert to be no more.

Yet though my trend be super-sentimental,
Thine end I truly do not mind a bit;
My grief for that is wholly incidental,
This is my woe, to wit:
The riveting and blasting I must hear—
Shades of the Woolworth tower—another year!

But there is no peace. Life is just one skyscraper after another. First the Hudson terminals, then the Singer, the Evening Post and the Woolworth buildings—rivets rat-tat-tat-tatting all day. And now the Aster House's successor.

But the building that is to be erected on the Aster House block will eventually save us a lot of time. It will obstruct our view of the Woolworth building, which is more fascinating for an urbanite to look at than mountains, seas, archipelagoes, lakes, isthmuses and all the Oranges. We find that we have been staring at it for forty minutes, and that it's 11.35 and there's half a col. to evolve in 20 minutes.

THE DIARY OF OUR OWN SAMUEL PEPYS.

May 7.—Cometh to my office B. Pemberton and bade me to luncheon with him and we had beakers of grape juice as has become the fashion, albeit I had drunk it or ever the Prime Minister Mr. Bryan had caused it to be a talked-of beverage. Thence to the tennis-court, where C. Beebe and I played Mr. Stevenson the college-preceptor and E. Rush, but always they beat us, and so did Mr. Henderson and Mr. Mersereau, and we had a sorry day of it and I home to dinner in an ill-humour. Laboured all the evening, but joyfeasly, and so to-bed.

8.—To the ballpark and saw there Maximilian Foster writer of tayles and he offered to wager with me that the Giants would trounce the Cincinnatis, as who should say, this Pepys is soft, not to say, unreasining. So I did wager 4s. with him and gained it too, forasmuch as the Giants made no runs soever and the Cincinnatis 4, which I was glad of. Mr. S. Mercer did speak this day of the rule of least resistance, but did observe that he did have on a new cap, at any rate. Met too D. Runyon and L. Cobb, and heard among them great argument as to the excellences of a tayle that hight "Sealed Orders," by Mr. Eugene Rhodes, one holding it to be the worst tayle ever wrote and the other deeming it to be a tayle of high merit; and they did agree to abide by what I said of the tayle, inasmuch, they said, as I did know more of such things than they, which is sooth, albeit I can write no tayle myself. Yet who drives fat oxen need not himself be fat, as the old Romans were wont to remark.

THREE ELOPEMENTS IN TWO YEARS ALLEGED

J. L. Wimbish, of 777 Ashby Street, Held at Police Station on Bigamy Charge

J. L. Wimbish, of 777 Ashby street, alleged to have eloped with three girls in the short space of two years, is now at police headquarters, while against his name on the police blotter is the charge "held for bigamy warrants."

If the charges against this gay Lothario are true, it will be proven that his first Lochinvar affair was with Misses Ella Kate Mann and Ola May Jones, with both of whom he eloped in May, 1910; that he then married the Jones girl; that he deserted her just before Christmas to elope again with Miss Mann. It is alleged that he participated in another elopement with a Birmingham girl shortly after he left his first wife, the Jones girl.

Wimbish claimed that he was never married to Miss Mann, the girl with whom he eloped the second time, and that the bigamy which her brother, Ware Mann, is bringing against him, can not be proven. He says that he never has had a divorce from his first wife, the Jones girl, but that if he can prove his innocence, he will procure one at once and marry Miss Mann.

In the meantime Ware Mann is said to be searching high and low to find his sister. Wimbish declares that he knows where she is, but he will give no hint to show her whereabouts. He says that he will produce her at the proper time to establish his innocence of the bigamy charge.

Wimbish was arrested Monday afternoon by Patrolman T. N. Bulloch at 777 Ashby street, where he was living with his father, A. L. Wimbish.

The warrants which will be brought against him by Ware Mann are said to state that in 1910 Wimbish eloped with Miss Mann and Miss Jones, two East Point girls.

At this time Wimbish was arrested on the charge of kidnaping the Jones girl; but the case was dropped when he agreed to marry her. He did so, and for a year they are said to have lived in Birmingham.

It is said that in May, 1911, he left his first wife. It is then alleged that he returned to East Point in the early part of last December and eloped with Miss Mann. This charge Wimbish admits, declaring at the same time that he did not marry Miss Mann. Her brother, it is said, states that Wimbish did marry Miss Mann, thereby committing bigamy. No marriage certificate can be found, however, and unless Miss Mann appear ons the scene but little will be proven either way.

Wimbish is also said to have run away with a girl in Birmingham last summer. At this time he was arrested, but managed to prove his innocence.

In his cell at police headquarters Wimbish refers very casually to his amours.

"I love Miss Mann," he declared, "and I intend to marry her. When I get a divorce from my wife, which I intend to do as soon as I get out of this, I will find her and we shall get married. Yes, I know where Miss Mann is, and when the time comes I will produce her. She will prove my innocence."

WORLD'S ESTIMATE OF JEW IS TOLD BY HER

Madame Pevsner, of Palestine, Lectured at Educational Alliance Sunday Night

In her lecture before an appreciative audience at the Jewish Educational Alliance Sunday night, Madame Bella Pevsner, of Palestine, won the applause and admiration of all. Her subject was "The Position of the Jew, the World Over," a subject of which Madame Pevsner has an unlimited source of knowledge, having traveled and studied the condition of her people in every principal city on the globe.

In part, Madame Pevsner said: "The Jew has contributed to the commerce, the wealth, the culture and the learning of every country in which he sojourned; he has given the world the most sublime book ever written—the Bible. His philanthropies are the examples of the world. If a university is to be founded, a Jew contributes the money for it; if a certain class of people are to be uplifted by education, no matter what race or religion they are, the Jew contributes the funds. But when a Jew dares to commit an offense against society or even be unjustly accused of such (and the Jew has as much right to commit wrongs as other people), his whole race is blamed for the offense of the individual. When the Jew is a credit to his country (and as a people they always are), then he is an American, a German or a Frenchman, but when he commits an offense, he is no longer considered as a citizen of his country, but as a Jew. In this, the twentieth century, such a condition is intolerable."

Madame Pevsner will speak again at the alliance Tuesday night. Her subject will be "Condition in Palestine," and will be illustrated with beautiful stereopticon slides.

Thursday night she will speak under the auspices of the Social Service club of this city at the Y. M. C. A. on "Social and Economic Questions." The public is cordially invited to her lectures.

JUDGE SKEPTICAL ABOUT FINDING MONEY ON STREET

A man by the name of J. Brown was arrested on the complaint of W. F. Brooks, of Meanville, Ga., who alleged that Brown was the man he had spent the day with here, and when they parted his wallet, which contain $200, was missing. Brown was found at the depot, ready to board a train. He was tried Monday afternoon and bound over for larceny from the person.

Brown had a roll of $140 on his person when the detective arrested him. He told the court at the trial that he had found the money on the street.

Judge Broyles remarked that he had lived forty years in Atlanta, and he had never found any roll of bills—not even a dollar bill, on the streets of the big city in his life.

"Well, you are not as lucky as I am," was the retort of the defendant, as he was led back to the prisoners' room, to wait the van to take him to the Tower.

STRAW RIDER ARRESTED FOR SHOOTING PISTOL

Straw Ride Terminated at the Fulton County Tower for Young Harrison

Starting out on a joyous straw ride Monday afternoon, J. M. Harrison, of DeKalb county, found himself in a cell at the Tower before the evening was over. He was arrested near Adamsville for discharging firearms by County Officer F. L. Peak, who quickly spread gloom all over the joyful straw riders when he showed his badge and took one of their jolliest guests in tow about 10 o'clock at night.

Harrison was locked up, charged with discharging firearms on the public highway and carrying a concealed weapon. He spent the night in the Fulton county jail, and was released Tuesday morning on a $100 bond, pending his trial before Judge Andy Calhoun. His excuse to the officer was that he thought he was out of the city, and that it was perfectly all right to shoot a little in the country.

DETECTIVE GOES AFTER MAN.

Detective Hollingsworth leaves Tuesday evening for Scranton, Pa., to get Frank Stompakin, a young collector, who is charged with beating a local cigar company out of about $200. It is charged that the young man collected this amount and failed to turn it in to the company.

"I'll Be Mrs. Smith Before Noon," She Said And Kept Her Word

When Miss Emma Wofford, the pretty young daughter of Mrs. A. G. Wofford, of 26 Alaska avenue, told her mother at breakfast Tuesday morning that she might be Mrs. Smith before the morning was over, her mother thought she was just teasing. The mother told her daughter, however, that she knew she would never have any cause to regret changing her name for the good old name of Smith, especially when it was attached to such a promising young physician as Dr. John R. Smith, of Douglas, Ga.

True to her prediction, Miss Wofford became Mrs. John R. Smith in Judge Orr's court by 10 o'clock the same morning. The ceremony over, and the license promptly signed, the bride straightway called up her mother to acquaint her of the facts. Mrs. Wofford told them to hasten home and receive her blessing.

The marriage was almost decided Monday, when the young physician, who is in charge of the Coffee county sanitarium at Douglas, journeyed to this city to see his fiance. It was finally determined before breakfast Tuesday, according to the fair bride, who already had arranged to meet her future husband uptown.

Dr. Smith and his bride had been acquainted for years, their first meeting taking place at Douglas when Miss Wofford visited there long before the young man decided upon a medical course in this city.

They will make their home in Douglas, Ga., leaving here on Thursday.

RENEWED BEAR PRESSURE CAUSED BREAK IN COTTON

Market in New York Closed 5 to 7 Points Down From the Previous Close

NEW YORK, May 13.—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 3 to 4 points on the higher cables than expected and overnight buying orders inspired by the firmness and bullish sentiment of yesterday. Private weather conditions in the south were considered somewhat favorable and there was considerable selling of the new crop at the advance. Nervousness as to the start of the plant in the eastern belt was still apparent, and the market sold about 5 to 7 points on new bidding. This made fair grounds for the movement on the July and attracted enough realizing to cause moderate reactions during the forenoon of the eastern belt forecast for showers.

After reacting three or four points from the best, trading became less active and selling seemed to be checked by apprehension of an unfavorable weekly report. The early afternoon market was unsettled with prices only a point or two above yesterday's finish.

The weekly report of the weather bureau failed to create fresh bullish sentiment and the session turned easier under reports of heavy rains in Texas and a renewal of local bear pressure and sold about 5 to 5 points net lower during the early afternoon.

Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands, 12.10; do, gulf, 12.35; sales, 101 bales.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, May 13.—Cotton futures opened steady, unchanged to 1 point up compared with the last prices of yesterday. Cables were colorless and the weather map and news did not favor either side very much. Rain was reported in the eastern half of the cotton region and more was promised in the forecast, but at the same time temperatures were generally regarded as being too low. Some complaint of seed not germinating well was received from points east of the Mississippi river. The market was quiet, but its tone was good, and at the close of the first hour all the distributive prices were 3 to 5 points over yesterday's final figures.

From the middle of the morning on the market had a tendency to sag. Considerable pressure from the south developed and for a while, at least, the selling was at all times met by a moderate demand for long account, which gave the market a good deal of support. The forecast covering the cotton region from the weather bureau was generally favorable, but the reports did not help the market much. At noon the trading was dull and prices were four points under the level of yesterday's close.

INTERESTING NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE MARKETS

Weather Reports, Crop Advices, Expert Opinions and Newspaper Comment

COTTON GOSSIP

Times-Democrat says: With Liverpool closed and shorts made uneasy by the scarcity of bearish news and information, yesterday's cotton market evidenced a very steady undertone and some characteristic willingness to advance whenever a little buying power develops. Enough rain seems to have fallen in Alabama to check complaints of very serious damage that set in. Nevertheless some talk was known authorities reported the planting in Alabama had dragged from an early start to a very backward start. Very little rain has fallen in Georgia, and high prices people are saying the first big morning, noon and night. Yesterday morning's forecast called for showers over eight in Georgia. The talent is killing the crop off much earlier this season than usual, and if the weather conditions do not shorts no little, because, with a war scare all winter and spring, with ridiculously exaggerated reports of very small acreage in March and with slumping experts and other unfavorable developments from a price point of view the short seller has been nourished on appetizing food and the sudden change from optimism to pessimism is surprising to say the least.

Mize shows cloudy east Texas and Atlantic states, clear Alabama, Georgia, Carolinas, rain except little in north Alabama and Pensacola, Fla., rain except little in the talent is north Carolina. Indications are for unsettled weather generally. Scattered showers eastern states, clearing Tennessee, Oklahoma, western Arkansas.

Washington announces condition report will be issued June 2, at noon, eastern time. It will give condition May 25 and June 1.

Forecast: Louisiana—Tonight and Wednesday generally fair; light to moderate easterly to southeasterly winds on the coast.

Texas—Tonight and Wednesday unsettled, showers in the northeast portion tonight or Wednesday, cooler tonight in west portion, cooler Wednesday.

East Texas—Tonight and Wednesday generally cloudy; light to moderate variable winds on the coast.

West Texas—Tonight and Wednesday generally cloudy, cooler except in southeast portion.

Georgia and Florida—Local showers tonight and Wednesday.

Alabama—Showers tonight and probably Wednesday.

North and South Carolina—Fair tonight and Wednesday.

Kentucky—Unsettled with showers tonight and Wednesday.

Tennessee—Generally fair tonight and Wednesday.

Mississippi—Local showers tonight or Wednesday.

Gifford, Henry, Waters, Lehman, Beardsley, Boardman & Co. say: Private wires to Schley, Hicks, Harteson, Fearsall, Schley, Mitchell leading sellers, 20,000 bales. Private wires to Watson 5,000 October on call. No rains on map and further short covering is looked for.

Newman, Gay, says: Showers around here.

Offering pressure of cotton and expert talk in Savannah district with a rainfall averaging half inch or more.

General selling on weekly weather report, construed bearish.

ESTIMATED COTTON RECEIPTS.

New Orleans expects tomorrow 3,800 to 4,500 bales, against 6,000 last year.

Galveston expects tomorrow 2,000 to 3,000 bales, against 3,000 bales last year.

COTTON MARKET OPINIONS

Stromberger, Sinn & Co.: The short interest is very large and should cover at least 400,000 bales, against 200,000 bales two weeks ago. Spot interest is very small and this should tend to sustain prices.

Hubbard Bros.: Unless conditions turn for the worse we look for lower prices.

Price Bros.: Present conditions are not of a nature to create enthusiasm on the long side of cotton.

Anderson, Clayton & Co.: We would avoid the short side of July at present. Later months, especially March, should be sold on any further rally.

Hayden, Stone & Co.: Until good rains come there will be nothing to induce shorting selling.

Hubbard Bros.: Unless there is a change in the weather in the immediate future we think a further advance is to be expected.

HAYWARD & CLARK'S COTTON LETTER.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 13.—Europe was unexpectedly strong and higher, which led to a strong Liverpool with futures three to four better than due. Spots in Liverpool sales 8,000. Southern crop news is worse, reporting that almost a state of war exists between cotton and boll weevil fighting. Also actual fighting in the Balkans attacking Greek posts and wounded arriving at Salonika. Consols unchanged and 75% Rentes fifteen lower to 85.10.

Washington announced that the first crop condition report will be issued June 2 at noon eastern time, and will give condition of crop May 25 and June 1. Weather shows cloudy eastern states and eastern Texas, fair elsewhere. There were a few scattered showers in the Atlantics and Alabama, none elsewhere; much warmer in North Carolina. Indications are for unsettled weather in the western states are Arkansas, probably rain storms in Oklahoma, showers in the Alabama and the Atlantics, generally fair in the south central belt. Correspondence with Hubbard Bros. views as to the ultimate course of prices, but opinion is in favor of selling around the bulges for a while until more is known about the crop development. The strength of July is the result of its being our market up but lack of confidence is shown by restricted support. Current high prices are largely regarded as accessory to professional attempts at the short interest and rains in the established record of the beginning of a day May still predominates. The greater part of Alabama had enough rainfall to start the replanted, and official records show that sufficient showers fell over a considerable portion of Georgia. The Savannah district shows seven stations with an average of half inch overnight. The contract market is dull but steady around 11.18 for October.

NEW YORK COTTON LETTER

NEW YORK, May 13.—The principal feature today has been the reported upturn in the spot and local operators. The map failed to show rains said by good crop men to be required east of the Mississippi river. However, local weather experts predict rains in the next 24 hours. This is regarded as a very important week for the new crop and the prevailing large scale buying of July and the selling of October appears to insure a good start, as the preceding large crop years of 1909 and 1911 were started under similar conditions in May. The weekly weather map just posted is construed as bearish, although Georgia shows a good deal of rain, the rest of the map is cold nights which has retarded growth to some extent.—Anderson-Clayton.

WEEKLY WEATHER REPORT

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 13.—Precipitation occurred over the greater portion of the cotton region, but was unevenly distributed and there were areas with no precipitation. No precipitation occurred over a large area in central Texas and there was very little precipitation in parts of the western portion of the Oklahoma. Showers prevailed in some localities. More than two inches of precipitation fell over parts of the states of Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi and at one station in North Carolina. Mean temperatures were from 5 to 8 degrees below normal in central Arkansas to 2 degrees above normal in Georgia and eastern Alabama. The highest daily temperatures ranged from 60 to 74 degrees over much of the eastern portion, 80 to 86 over the central portion and from 66 to 74 over the western portion of cottongrowing states. The lowest temperatures were 40 degrees, occurred at Asheville, N. C., and the highest, 74 degrees, at Del Rio, Texas.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast till 7 p. m. Wednesday.

Atlanta and vicinity: Fair and warmer tonight and Wednesday.

Georgia and Alabama: Local showers tonight or Wednesday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Chances for rain at Atlanta have practically disappeared for the present. The atmospheric pressure is high over the southeastern portion of the United States and the weather is now generally fair except in the extreme west and in the Mississippi river. Temperatures in the east are seasonable and pleasant.

The disturbance in the west is now central over Colorado, with the lowest atmospheric pressure in the Missouri valley, ranging 29.6 inches. This is accompanied by generally cloudy weather west of the Mississippi, with considerable rain in the northern portions of Iowa, Minnesota and Dakotas, and snow in Montana.

Temperatures in the west are moderately low for the season, but in Manitoba it is below freezing at one or two points.

Fair weather, warmer, is indicated for Atlanta tonight and Wednesday.

Section Director, Weather Bureau.

FAVORABLE CROP REPORTS CAUSED BREAK IN WHEAT

Wheat Closed 7-8 to 1 Cent Down—Corn and Oats Off. Provisions Are Up

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, May 13.—Favorable crop prospects weakened wheat. Predictions were current that the European visible supply would show an increase. Opened unchanged to ¼c down, July started at 89¾c to 89¼c, a decline of ¼c to ⅜c, and eased off to 89¼c.

Lack of export demand induced a further wheat break. Closed weak with July ⅞@1⅛ net lower at 88⅝@88⅝c.

Expected showers, helpful to recent plantings, weakened corn. July started unchanged to ⅛c lower, at 56¼c to 56⅜c, and descended to 55⅝@56c.

Improvement of eastern inquiry led to a corn rally, but the market soon fell back. Closed weak at 55⅜@55⅝c for July, ⅛@⅜c under last night.

Oats suffered from selling pressure, July, which opened unchanged to ⅛c down, at 36c to 36⅛c, seemed inclined to keep within that range.

Neglect made provisions firm. First sales were a shade to 7½c lower, with July as follows: Pork, $19.20; lard, $10.75; ribs, $11.00.

Woman's Club Elects Officers

By unanimous vote, Mrs. A. F. Coles was re-elected president of the Woman's club at its meeting Monday afternoon, her choice being an expression not only of the esteem of the club members, but a recognition as well of the able manner in which she filled the president's chair during the past year.

In response to the vote, Mrs. Coles made a very gracious address of acceptance, pledging herself to the work of the club during the coming year.

Miss Alice Baxter was chosen as first vice president, and Mrs. Linton Hopkins was elected second vice president.

The remaining officers chosen were: Recording secretary, Mrs. Lott Warren; assistant secretary, Mrs. Albert Akers; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Victor Kriegshaber; treasurer, Mrs. M. M. Davies; auditor, Mrs. Arthur Powell.

Literary Contest.

Announcement was made of a contest on southern literary, the prize to be a complete set of "The Library of Southern Literature."

Miss Alice Baxter, Mrs. James Jackson, Mrs. Lott Warren, of Atlanta; Mrs. M. A. Lipscomb, of Athens, and Miss Louise Hays, of Thomasville, form the Federated Clubs committee, which will have the contest in charge. The contest will be under the auspices of the Federated Clubs of Georgia.

The following governing conditions were announced for the contest:

1. Contestants in the preparation of their essays are expected to deal with each phase of literature suggested by subheads.

2. The contest is open to all young men and women (white) of Georgia who are eighteen and not over twenty-five years of age.

3. Each contestant shall use a pseudonym for signing the essays and in a separate sealed envelope, accompanying same, shall write plaintly both the fictitious and real name with full address. These sealed envelopes will be opened only by the central committee and after the selection of the best essay has been decided, but it will be understood that the sealed envelope must go as directed in article 8.

4. The manuscript must be typewritten, using one side of paper only.

5. Contestants shall certify at the bottom of their essay as follows:

"I hereby certify that I am within the age limit specified, that this paper is of my own composition, prepared without aid of any kind except such as was obtained from reading, with all quotations used clearly indicated, and contains ..... words."

6. Essays will be graded as to subject matter and literary merit and must not contain more than twenty-five hundred to three thousand words.

7. The name of the successful contestant will be announced and the prize awarded at the state convention of the Georgia Federation of Women's clubs, to be held October 28, 1913, at Cuthbert, Ga.

8. Contestants shall send essays to the Prize-Essay Committee of the Congressional District in which they reside not later than September 15, 1913. These committees shall be in charge of the Congressional District Club President. Each district president, assisted by her committee, shall select one of the essays submitted and send it to the central committee not later than October 5, 1913. Through this procedure the central committee should have twelve carefully selected papers, one from each congressional district, from which number will be selected the prize essay.

9. Contestants are advised to read southern writers and are privileged to consult any thoroughly reliable reference books within their reach. Librarians, teachers and members of the federation will be glad to give suggestions as to books. Among good authorities are "Southern Writers," W. P. Trent; "Southern Poets," B. W. Hubner; "South In History and Literature," Mildred Rutherford. The "Library of Southern Literature," Alderman and Harris, will be found more than any other work to embrace all phases of southern literature.

During the afternoon, Mrs. William Cleer Spiker read the "House of Rimmon," by Van Dyke, her interpretation being most artistic and delightful.

Tea was served at the conclusion of the game in the garden, the rustic table circling a big oak, which rises like a great umbrella above the little vine covered arbor about it. Decorations of mountain laurel, sweet peas and other spring flowers made the rooms attractive, and the occasion was one of much pleasure and interest.

Today's Beauty Recipes

By Mme. D'Mille.

"The electric needle for the removal of superfluous hair is both painful and expensive. A quick, safe and sure way to remove wild hairs is to apply a little powdered delatone mixed with water. Just cover the hairs with this paste for a minute or two, wipe off, wash the skin and the hairs will be gone.

"Spring colds are often more stubborn than colds brought on by winter exposure. Mother's Sairs will break up an ordinary cold in head or chest overnight. It is easy to use, quick to act, and relieves catarrh, croup, sore throat.

"To keep the skin fair, fresh and smooth, apply in the morning a lotion made by dissolving an original package of mayatone in a half pint of witch hazel. It will not rub off or show like powder and prevents the growth of hair. Mayatone quickly corrects dark, sallow and blotchy complexions.

"You can recommend Mother's Shampoo to your husband and he will thank you for it. Many men who shave themselves do not shampoo frequently enough. Dandruff, falling hair and baldness are caused by a parasite, and Mother's Shampoo removes these parasites. It restores dry, brittle and faded hair to a glossy, fluffy condition, and keeps the scalp healthy.—(Advt.)

What Anne Rittenhouse Says

The growing popularity of flowered voile is marked. For a while its fate hung in the balance. After all it may be wiser not to jump to the conclusion that a certain fabric will suit us until we see how the dressmakers handle it, and also to wait a while and see how the public takes it.

There is really no reason any one can advocate for not using an attractive material which suits the needs, the figure and the purse merely because it is over-popular; but a woman's way of feeling is more important than her way of reasoning, and as the former has governed her for a few centuries it will probably continue to do so despite the efforts to educate her above emotion.

This flowered voile is sold in several colors and weaves; some of it is too expensive for the average purse and is used for elaborate afternoon and evening gowns in combination with lace and satin; other qualities closely resemble an old friend called challie, which served the summer needs of women for many years.

The background is white or tan, and the latter is used more for afternoon gowns than the former; on this are posies of varicolored blossoms more or less gaudy, some smacking of the Futurist school, others as demure as any mid-Victorian would wish.

Any one of these gowns can be used for informal dinners and small dances made up with lace and satin and roses as suggested, but it is their value for simple summer frocks that makes them worth while to the majority. They probably will take the place of muslin for every occasion except the early morning hours, for which some women cling to all white as to a tradition. It is a costly method, and the woman on a small income can not afford it, but this is always a matter of individual choice against which no one's suggestions has much weight, just as is almost impossible to convince the average woman who works that white blouses and white linen skirts are the daily uniform of the day.

Tunic Gowns of Floral Voile.

Some of the new models for everyday wear are a combination of plain white voile or fine curtain scrim and floral voile used as a coat that ends in a tunic and as bands on the skirt. It is difficult to add a tunic that does not match the skirt unless one is willing to have the blouse or some kind of jacket effect of the same material, and this is always done with any flowered fabric which is combined with a plain color.

One model has a fine white scrim skirt with a five-inch band of voile covered with red and blue flowers, and there is a short straight tunic of the same attached to the bodice at the waist. The latter is cut in kimono shape, but does not meet in back or front, and the spaces are filled in with a surplice arrangement of white wash net edged with fine lace.

The girdle is of white with applied blue and red flowers in an irregular design and the buckle is of shirred blue silk which sinks into the figure.

There is another model which has a plain white voile skirt with a deep scalloped edge of blue voile done in pink and yellow flowers; a line of scallops goes up the front of the skirt over the fastening, and the slim fitting Russian blouse, which is much longer in back than front, has a bodice made of the voile, fastened under the scallops in front and showing a shallow yoke with stock of white dotted net finished with a pink and blue taffeta bow in front.

Gowns Trimmed With Voile.

The deep tan voile with its brilliant little posies makes an admirable trimming for all kinds of simple white frocks and will be used for waistcoats, turned collars and cuffs on linen suits. Cretonne will also be used in the same way, as it is one of the most popular additions to summer clothes, but it is rather hot and heavy to wear in the average summer climate.

Voile does not have this disadvantage and the floral effect and the combination of colors are equally as good as in chintz. The flowered tan fabric will also be put on hand colored batiste frocks for every day wear, which are more serviceable than white, as they do not soil so easily.

One of the new methods of using it is to make what is called a waistcoat blouse, which is nothing but a deep manish vest with sleeves. This is worn under a coat which is widely opened in front, and yet is quite presentable when the coat is removed. This kind of garment is more convenient than the white blouse and waistcoat together, because of the awkwardness in getting the coat and the vest off together, are one must remove them in public.

It has long since been the fashion to keep on one's coat whether at luncheon or tea outside of a private house, but no matter how much this custom may be observed in winter, it is a most uncomfortable one to follow in hot weather.

In Paris they are wearing one piece frocks and coat suits of chintz, and those in the watch towers are waiting to see if they will appear on any women. The shops have showed a few. They are not more gaudy than the bright colored calico frocks which were worn in the last generation, but somehow the idea does not seem to meet with approval.

Fry Fish in Cottolene

You can fry fish in Cottolene, and use the remaining fat for frying potatoes or other food. The odor of the fish will not be imparted to the other fried food.

Cottolene is not alone economical for the reason that it can be used over and over, but also because it is richer than butter or lard, and one-third less is required. It is twice as economical as butter; much more economical than lard.

Cottolene makes rich, digestible, tasty, healthful food. Does not make food greasy, and is free from indigestion.

Cottolene is never sold in bulk — always in air-tight tin pails, which protect it from dirt, dust and odors. It is always uniform and dependable.

THE EVENING STORY FROM THE HEIGHTS

(Copyright, 1913, by W. Werner.)

KITTY was late. She knew that as soon as she came within sight of the house, and also was aware that she had been asked at the eleventh hour for two reasons—one that she was needed to fill a vacancy and the other she was wanted to write the affair up afterward.

As she rang the bell at the stately front door with one hand she made ineffectual dabs with the other at straying locks. Even at the threshold she hung back timidly, hating to enter.

Her young hostess opened the door and with pain Kitty saw that she had on a new dress. She saw, too, that several other girls wer wearing new dresses—girls who condescended toward her when she did meet them.

Kitty went up. In the front room she laid her shabby coat aside and kicked her worn rubbers under a couch and tucked her gloves out of sight. Then she looked in the glass.

"I wish I hadn't come," she thought. "I'm out of place. I feel I'm only a skirt' reporter from the country, a little for the sake of getting their gay doings well written up."

She drew her breath hard, made two false starts and finally walked down stairs.

Local was waiting for her just inside the parlor door. "I think," she said, "that you know everybody except Miss Kante. Miss Kane, Miss Macnamara."

Kitty was just going to bow formally when she saw a white hand with a great red stone like a spark of fire glowing upon it held out for hers. The clasp that followed and the glance from the eyes above it—gray eyes set in a sweet, strong face, tenderly haloed by graying hair—were warm and genuine.

"Come, sit here beside me, won't you? I'm such a stranger," said a voice that matched the face.

Kitty sat down, though she felt that it was unnecessary to lend her company to Miss Kate, who, it was easy to see, was the guest of honor. She was much older than any one else present—quite forty Kitty judged—and dressed exquisitely.

Lola was bustling about arranging the tables for bridge. She was a sprightly, dark girl. Kitty always felt as inconsequential and colorles as a lump of cottage cheese compared with her.

They drew for partners and Miss Kane fell to the lot of Kitty.

"Oh, you'll be sorry," Kitty breathed, "I play so badly."

"I'm not alarmed," replied Miss Kane, smiling.

Kitty did play badly, even worse than usual. More than once Alice Landry glanced at her wonderingly, with a softly murmured . . "Why, Kitty Macnamara!"

Kitty knew that she was disgracing herself. Her movements grew nervous and jerky. Once in riffling the cards she sowed the whole pack broadcast.

"I'm such a stranger," said a voice that matched the face.

She dare not lift her eyes to the girls who were her opponents or to that grave, gray-eyed woman opposite, who sought to cover her mistakes as fast as she made them.

"She'll hate me forever," Kitty thought miserably. A sudden rage possessed her. Her head went up defiantly. And then she became aware that a curious silence was following up the sound of her own voice, that the girl on her right was biting her lip angrily, that Alice Landry was saying in a shocked tone: "Why, Kitty Macnamara, how nasty you are!"

She did not know what she had said, and she did not care. She only knew that it had stung somewhere. Behind her she heard a low voice: "The disagreeable thing! I shan't ask her to my house after this, even for the sake of her clever reporting."

The game came to a close and refreshments were brought in. Kitty took a mouthful of her ice and crumbled a cake. Then she saw that she had been left alone. She got up and moved toward the door. Nobody noticed. She thought she was going to escape from the room, when Lola spoke.

"Kitty, you're not going?"

"I think I must. I've had a lovely time." Her lips trembled over the lie.

Lola looked at her coldly. "I'm glad you came," she said, but Kitty knew that she, too, lied.

Kitty fled upstairs. As she snatched her coat from the place where she had left it she noticed that it had lain all the time close to a garment of baby lamb, rich, new, and fashionable. It was Miss Kane's.

Her hand stole down the length of the coat. She loved beautiful things, she who never had any. When she drew her hand away a faint fragrance came with it—a very emanation from that gracious womanliness which characterized Miss Kane. She hurried into her coat and hat, her rusty rubbers, her mended gloves and left the room. Outside on the landing she came face to face with Miss Kane.

"If you'll wait a moment," said the older woman, "I'll walk away with you."

Kitty waited. Miss Kane came out wearing the splendid coat, with a smart little toque atop her graying hair. She smiled encouragingly at Kitty, who smiled back piteously.

"You won't mind going a little out of your way with me?" Miss Kane asked as they reached the street.

Kitty shook her head. "I'd love to," she said. Then, with a sob, her plea came. "Oh, I know what they think of me back there, and I don't care. But I do care what you think." With a splash the tears were out upon her cheeks.

When presently she could see clearly again she found that she had been led into a quiet side street, where there was nobody to see her emotion, and that Miss Kane's arm was through hers.

"Poor little girl," said the sweet voice.

"No, I'm a horrid, nasty, blundering girl." There was frantic protest in Kitty's tones. "But perhaps if you knew—"

"Don't I?" asked Miss Kane.

Kitty's eyes sought her in amazement. "But how?"

"Because I've been a girl myself."

"Butyou could never have been such a girl as I am," Kitty said at length. "You see there's three of us, mother isn't well and Ted is only eleven. When father stopped work I took his place. I'm a newspaper woman and you can't know what it means to be a newspaper woman in a little town like this. I know everybody and I get asked about, not because I'm wanted as a girl, but because I'm clever at writing up affairs afterward. That's how I came to be at Lola's today. Oh, you don't know how hard it is to go to a place like that in an old dress. It all comes over one so! Usually I can hold in, but this afternoon when I knew they were laughing at me and heard Alice Landry's remarks I got wicked and restless and—"

"I saw how you were tormented—pushed against the wall till you felt as if you must fight or die. I saw it all, Kitty. By the way, my name is Kitty, too. And once the sweet voice grew sweeter, "I was just such a Kitty as you are, with something of the same problem to work out. There was money enough in my family—I did not lack that—but I did lack the things that are more necessary to make life livable—love and friendship. You see, I was so homely, so impossible, I did not understand myself and there was no one to understand me. I was never asked anywhere I wanted to go, and when I was asked I was ignored. After a while I fell in love with a man who was scarcely aware of me. The experience brought me a heart break, but it woke me up. It made a woman of me. I found that the world was full of Kitty Kanes—lonely, heart hungry, ignored. I began to hunt them out, to try to make them happy, and one day, years after, I found out that I was happy, too. While I had been trying to get other people the things they wanted the things I wanted had all come to me. Mentally I stood just where we are physically standing now."

Then Kitty saw that they had climbed a hill and were looking down a great way on the town.

"Do you understand, dear, why I've brought you here?" Miss Kane asked. "There are heights, too, for your soul to attain. And you have to climb hard a long way to reach them. But when you're there you are glad of all that has passed on the way, glad even of such things as that which happened this afternoon. Maybe you'll be middle aged before you reach these heights, as I am. But when you do you'll see all the plan and meaning of life. And then you'll begin actually to live. And I want to tell you, dear, before we go down, that you've made a friend this afternoon who will reach out a hand to help you whenever you really need it."

"Oh!" Kitty breathed. Her face was full of light. "You've given me a great gift—the greatest—the gift of hope. And now I want to give you something—a promise to make the best use of that gift. I'm going to stand on the heights, too," Kitty said fervently.

"And then you'll begin actually to live."

LITTLE STORIES FOR BED TIME

By Thornton W. Burgess

(Copyright, 1913, by J. G. Lloyd.)

You remember that it was discontent, nothing but discontent, that was at the bottom of all that had happened to Johnny Chuck. If Johnny hadn't suddenly become discontented with his old home on the Green Meadows he never would have left it. And if he hadn't left it he never would have met Polly Chuck, and of course there never would have been that nice new house in a corner of Farmer Brown's old orchard, nor the baby Chucks, nor any of the joys and worries which Johnny Chuck had known. They had all come from that discontent with his old home. And in spite of his sorrow over the lost baby Chuck and the worries he had every day over the two little Chucks still at home, Johnny felt that he never before in his life had known so much joy as since he had learned what love is. And so he was glad of the discontent which had driven him out into the world to find love.

So you see discontent, the right kind of discontent, sometimes leads to very much better things. Discontent which wants better things but is not unhappy if they cannot be obtained is really a good kind of discontent. But discontent which wants foolish things and is unhappy without them is—well, just listen to the story of Peter Rabbit's discontent and perhaps you will understand.

Peter Rabbit was discontented. Yes, sir, Peter Rabbit was discontented. Now that the excitement over the hunt for Johnny Chuck's lost baby was over Peter had more time to think about himself. That was a bad thing for Peter. It is a bad thing for any one to think too much about self, but it was especially bad for Peter Rabbit just then because he didn't have much of anything else to think about. You see he had no family. He didn't have to build a new house. He didn't even have to hunt for his food, because in the beautiful spring time there is always plenty for Peter Rabbit to eat wherever he may be. Nobody wanted to gossip, because, you know, everybody else was very busy.

So Peter Rabbit sat in the dear old brier patch and wished this and wished that and wished the other thing until he grew so discontented that he couldn't sit still. If you had asked him he couldn't have told you, to save his life, what the matter really was. Nothing was right. The sun was too bright or it wasn't bright enough. The dear old brier patch which had protected him so long was no kind of a place to live in. His legs were too long. His coat was the wrong color. He wanted to climb like Happy Jack Squirrel. He didn't see why he couldn't swim like Jerry Muskrat. Oh, dear, dear, Happy-go-lucky Peter Rabbit was in a terrible state of mind. Finally the discontent all settled down to one thing and you never, never will guess what that was, it was such a foolish thing to be discontented with. It was his name. What do you think of that? Peter Rabbit was discontented with his name. He said it was common. Peter had yet to learn what you and I long ago learned—that

Every day in every year
The common things are those most dear.
The air we breathe, the good plain bread,
The sleep we seek each night in bed.
Go where you will, go east or west,
You'll find that common things are best.

MOULTRIE, Ga., May 13.—The death of Richard Tucker, of the Bridge Creek district, removes one of the best known men of the county, and one of the pioneer settlers of the county. Judge Tucker has served his district for more than forty years as justice of the peace and was prior to that a sheriff of the county, being one of the first men to hold that office after the county was formed in 1856. He was one of thirty-two children of the late Crawford Tucker, famed as a preacher and a father, of Irwin county.

Prices have advanced continuously until they are now worth twice as much as they were a few years ago. The factors affecting their value are becoming more complex from year to year, assuring a continued rise in their value.

You can buy diamonds of us without making the cash outlay large. A small amount cash and the balance extended over a number of months best suited to you. Write or call for the plan in detail.

For our out-of-town customers, or those who do not find it convenient to visit our establishment, we are glad, upon receipt of references, to send a selection of diamonds from which to choose.

The Doctor's Answers On Health and Beauty Questions
BY DR. LEWIS BAKER.

The questions answered below are general in character; the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given but only initials or fictitious name will be user in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

Elizabeth says: "I am troubled with a constant headache which also affects my eyes. My breath is awful, as I have a severe case of catarrh of the head and throat."

Answer: I receive daily hundreds of letters from people who have suffered as you do and who have been cured with the following prescription: Make a wash by mixing one-half teaspoonful of Vilane powder, which you can purchase from any druggist in 2 oz. packages, and add to this one pint of warm water, use this in the nostrils night and morning; also take internally a catarrh balm should be used with this. This is made by mixing one teaspoonful of Vilane powder with one ounce of lard or vaseline and apply well to into the nostrils twice a day. If this is used daily your catarrh will soon vanish. It should, however, be used occasionally to prevent a return of the disease.

"C. G." writes: "If you know of anything that will cure dandruff, itching scalp and premature baldness, please let me know what it is."

Answer: For several years I have prescribed plain yellow mineral as superior to anything known for the treatment of diseased scalp. Get it in four-ounce jars with full directions. It will soon overcome all disease of hair and scalp and gives new vigor and intense natural color to the hair. Try it fairly and you will advocate its use for your friends.

"Mildred" writes: "I am constantly embarrassed because of the fact of my extreme thinness. I have absolutely no color in my face or lips and I am dull and lifeless most of the time. Please tell me what to do."

Answer: If you are so thin and pale and your lips and cheeks colorless it is because your blood is deficient in red corpuscles. This can be easily overcome by the use of three grain hypo-nuclane tablets, which can be had from any druggist in sealed cartons with full directions for taking. When the blood is enriched by the use of these tablets your weight will increase, the color will come back into your face and lips, and it will improve your general system so that you will become strong and healthy.

"Edna" writes: "I suffer with rheumatism all the time and I shall be very glad if you can tell me something to relieve me."

Answer: I can give you an prescription which will not only relieve, but will cure your rheumatism. The cure will come back only and from the number of letters received from people who have used it proves this value in curing rheumatism. The following is made by mixing well, taking a teaspoonful at meal times and again before retiring: Comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; syrup sarsparilla comp., 5 ozs.; iodide of potassium, 2 drams; wine of colchicum, one-half ounce; sodium salicylate, 4 drams.

"Morris" asks: "I have suffered with a chronic cough for almost a year, and catch a fresh cold every few weeks. Nothing the doctor gives me helps. Will you write to you."

Answer: Obesity is burdensome. Excessive fat on the human body is unnatural and frequently results seriously. The best and safest method to reduce is to take regularly 5-grain Marmola prescription tablets. They are put up in sealed tubes with directions for home use, and any well-stocked druggist can supply them.

Answer: You need a thorough laxative cough syrup, one that not only relieves but surely drives it from the system. The following recipe will overcome the trouble cough or cold promptly. Obtain a 2½ oz. bottle of essence mentholaxene, mix it with a home-made sugar syrup or honey as per directions on bottle.

"Anxious B." writes: "I have in recent years been threatened with appendicitis, but would never consent to an operation. Indigestion, constipation and sedentary habits cause me much suffering. Kindly prescribe for dyspepsia something which you think will cure me and prevent appendicitis."

Answer: The most scientific and satisfying treatment for your trouble is tablets of dispeptine; packed pink, white and blue in sealed cartons with full directions. All stomach disorders can be conquered by regular treatment.

"Nervous M." writes: "Loss of sleep, nervousness, loss of appetite and overwork has made almost a complete wreck of me. I have to work, but can scarcely drag one foot after the other. Can you advise."

Answer: The condition you prescribe is prevalent especially with brain workers. Use the following: Compound syrup of hypophosphites, 3 ozs.; tincture of cadomene, 1 oz. Mix, shake well and take a teaspoonful before meals.

"Sara C." writes: "I am constipated and have a greasy skin. Suffer from headache, indigestion and some kidney trouble. I wish you to recommend a remedy."

Answer: The best remedy to relieve and cure chronic constipation is called three-grain solsperb tablets made from sulphur, cream of tartar and herb medicines. Taken regularly the blood is purified, the bowels and liver stimulated into healthy action and a cure established. They are packed in sealed tubes with full directions. These tablets are splendid for children as they do not gripe or sicken.

"Mamma"—I know of nothing better for bed-wetting than: 1 dram of tincture cubebs, 2 drams tincture rhus aromatic and 1 oz. comp. fluid balmworth. Mix. The dose is 10 to 15 drops in water one hour before meals.

LOST BEAUTY OF WOMEN

Can be Remedied, in Many Instances, According to Statement of Mrs. Lucile McElroy

Laurel, Miss.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Lucile McElroy says: "I was sick three years, with backache, headache, pains in my stomach and back, low down. At times, I could not do a thing. I was so weak.

After I was married, I thought I would try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and after using two or three bottles, I couldn't tell one day from another—felt good all the time.

I not only still use Cardui, but advise every lady I think needs it, to give it a trial, and several whom I have persuaded, say they have obtained great relief.

Another good thing I have noticed about Cardui, is that it fills out hollows under the eyes, which are sunken as if from a bad spell of sickness. It fleshens up a woman's eyes, and makes them look bright and plump. Many a woman would be pretty if it were not for her sunken-in eyes.

I believe that Cardui, the woman's tonic, is the only treatment for women."

Do you suffer from womanly trouble? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.

Judging from the experience of a million other women who have been benefited by this remedy, it should surely do you good.

Atlanta Drops One Peg in Percentage Column By Monday Loss

GEORGIA COMING DOWN; TECH RUNS SMOOTHLY

GEORGIA IS ON DEFENSE

ATHENS, Ga., May 13.—Breathless is the only word that describes the state of feeling at Georgia. Not having recovered completely from the surprise she suffered in losing to Tech, the Red and Black is waiting for an opportunity to tie the series on next Friday and Saturday in Atlanta. Monday was an off day, as Cunningham wanted his men to rest, and just a little batting practice was indulged in.

Any one who has witnessed the games played in Athens this year realizes two things—one that the Georgia team or rather infield is young and consequently their success has been phenomenal; second, that they did not have anything like the "pep" and hitting ability during the Tech series that has characterized the team so far. Coach Cunningham's sizing up of the situation is as follows:

"We have hit a slump. Feeling that the championship was won, the boys broke their stride. After the phenomenal showing that the team has made, it is regrettable for them to have slumped so miserably in the Tech series. They made ten errors in the first game, and in no other game have they made over five. Eubanks and Pitts were not hit safely but thirteen times by the Georgia batters in the two games, while Locke, of Auburn; Ezell, of Clemson; Brower, of Washington and Lee; McClure, of Vanderbilt, and Pratt, of Alabama, received more punishment than this in one game. Neither did the hits which Georgia secured go for extra bases, the only hit of the series which went further than a single being Wooten's fly, which was scored as a fourbagger.

"I do not say this to detract from Tech's team, as their boys played magnificent ball, and really deserved to win the two games."

Cunningham will bring his team slowly, as the only thing to do, since they have broken the great stride at which they are going is to start back at the bottom and come up with a rush. There is plenty of confidence still on the part of the boys that the Red and Black will pull through with a tie, although the odds have fallen from 2 to 1 on Georgia to 10 to 7 on Tech within the last five days.

One thing which speaks in Georgia's favor, and would indicate that there is hope for the slump to go off is that she is now on the defensive. She must win two games on a foreign diamond, which is a mean and disagreeable task. However, they are a crowd of fighters who have come from behind in several games this season, and they can be depended on to rise to the situation when placed on the defensive.

BRAINS HELP JACKETS WIN

It is mental work the Tech ball players are going through this week in preparing for the big games with Georgia here Friday and Saturday. Very little physical exertion is being indulged in, the players knowing sufficiently well how to pick up a ball and throw it, while there is always plenty of room for improvement at he mental end.

In the two games in Athens last week the Jackets showed an abundance of headwork and in this way managed to win the two games from Alex Cunningham's boys. They all pulled the right play at the right time, and if their work in this line can be improved upon it is figured the team has even a better chance of winning at least one of the two remaining games and taking the series.

Ever since the return of the team from Athens Coach Heisman has had the boys on the dats working them on intricate plays. They have already gone through most every play that ever arose in a ball game and during the next two days they will be put through some never even thought of. In other words, they are to be taught to meet every emergency that could arise, and if they only hold their heads the fans are promised some real clever baseball.

Eubanks and Pitts are working out their pitching arms but little. They are hurling just enough to keep the members limbered up, the main work being in the use of their head in pinches. Headwork enabled this pair of flingers to keep the Georgia hitters from hitting the ball out of the lot in the recent series, and with even a better knowledge of the weakness of the Red and Black hitters they should work out better games when they next face the Georgia swatters.

Base running is another feature of the game upon which Coach Heisman is working his boys. Most every member of the squad is fast, and it is calculated that by running the bases properly much can be gained.

SET RECORD FOR CONTROL

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 13.—Running along with Walter Johnson in his efforts to pitch a record number of scoreless innings is "Christy" Mathewson, whose admirers are expecting to see him set a new record for perfect control.

The star pitcher of the New York Nationals finished his forty-seventh inning yesterday without a base on ball. "Matty" has given only two passes this year, both in the first game he pitched against Boston, April 17. His record since then has been:

Attendance Is Good on Road

Since the Atlanta club hit the rollers on the present road trip the attendance has proven large. In both Birmingham and Mobile immense crowds turned out on Sunday, the first day, the last hitting of the Crackers proving sufficient attraction to draw from 3,000 to 4,000 to each performance.

In the four games in Birmingham, 13,333 paid admissions passed through the turnstiles and in the four games in Mobile there was a paid attendance of 10,234, in Montgomery it was exceptionally large for the Billikens, only small crowds ever turning out to witness the Dobbers in action.

At home the Atlanta club has also played to big crowds and right now the attendance record is higher than usual, in fact it will be larger than any past season, opening day here and the big attendance drawn in Mobile and Birmingham helping to boost the figures.

Harbison Too Weak For Lookout Club

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 13.—President O. B. Andrews, of the local club, announced last night that he had secured Third Baseman Williams from the Montreal club, and Outfielder Betcher, from the Newark club. Both men will report immediately.

Williams will be retained permanetly as utility man, while Betcher will be given a trial in left. No deal has yet been made for "Dug" Harbison, and he will probably be placed on the ineligible list.

WHAT'S GETTING BILL'S GOAT?

ERRORS AND HITS THAT WON GAME

Wildness on the part of Swindell and Brenton for the Pelicans gave the Lookouts yesterday's battle by the score of 4 to 2. Swindell was taken out in the first inning after giving up two bases on balls to start the game. Brenton, with three men on in the third, gave a free pass and forced a run.

Elmer Brown, of the Billikens, made the going easy for his teammates yesterday when he struck out twelve men and let the Barons down with two scratch hits. The rest of the Montgomery team rested while the pitcher gave the crowds an exhibition of just how the ball should be pitched.

The sensational batting of Callahan and the superb pitching of Williams gave the Vols a victory over the Gulls after the Mobile team had bombarded Fleharty for four runs. In the first inning Callahan knocked a homer. In the seventh, with a man ahead of him, he knocked another home run, tying the score. In the eleventh, with Noyes on second, he singled, Noyes scoring the winning run.

After nearly losing the game in a bad inning, Nap Rucker pulled himself together and won the second game of the series from the Reds by the score of 4 to 3. Rucker had a bad inning in the fifth and the Reds overcame the Dodgers' lead of three gotten in the first. But Rucker arose to the occasion and blanked the visitors for the remainder of the game.

A batting rally in the eighth won the game for the Tigers. The Detroit team had to fight an up-hill battle all the way but in the eighth they rallied to the cause, got four hits and three runs and tied the score. Bush scored the winning run in the ninth when Cobb sacrificed a fly to the outfield.

Weak fielding behind Russell gave the game to the Athletics. Russell outpitched the veteran Bender, but the fielding of the Athletics was sensational and the White Sox were shut out. Chicago got men on third three times but could not put across the needed hit at the right time.

The Giants trimmed the Cubs, 5 to 1. The New Yorkers knocked Lew Ritchie out of the box. In the five innings that he pitched the Giants got ten hits. Meyers started the batting rally in the fourth that started the downfall of Ritchie. Matheweon pitched a good game against the Cubs letting them down with three hits.

It took the Phillies eleven innings to trim the Pirates. Lobert scored the winning run when he reached third on Wilson's fumble of his single and crossed the plate on Magee's sacrifice. Erskine Mayer succeeded Moore in the ninth and held the Pirates safe.

Maranville, the diminutive shortstop of the Doves, won the game for his team when with two men on base he tripled, scoring two. His fielding kept the lead that he gained for his teammates.

MINOR HURLING POOR; MAJOR BATTING WEAK

—BY JULIAN MURPHEY.

In the major leagues to date all the sensational work has been done by the flingers, while in the Southern it has been the hurlers who have been largely responsible for the loss of game after game. On the other hand the batting in the big show has been decidedly off, that is as a whole, while down here all the swatters have been killing the ball far beyond their real ability.

PITCHERS VERY WILD.

Inability to locate the plate has been the main trouble with the Southern league hurlers. There are many right here in this circuit who have a bunch of goods, but they have been unable to put it across the pan and the batters have shown enough sense to work them to the limit. On every club save Mike Finn's Mobile bunch the pitchers have been going wretchedly. At Mobile, however, they have been as steady as clockwork, and while showing no championship work they have not contracted the walking habit as has become so popular with many others.

Cite the work of the Atlanta twirlers as a fair example of the workings of the hurlers in this circuit. Bill Smith's bunch is a good collection. Buck Weaver, Paul Musser, Jim Brady and Gilbert Price are known to be fast hurlers. They have shown class in the past, but right now some of the bunch can't hurl for beans. They are just in a slump and there are flingers from a good many other clubs in the same trouble.

BATTERS GOING GREAT.

In the same sentence in which the weak work of the hurlers is pointed out you can talk of the great hitting of the star members of the different clubs. Everybody is showing an inclination to hit above their true form, and this is serving to roll up excessively large scores in each game. When the batters are going good and the hurlers are weak it serves to fatten all batting averages and this year may see at least a .375 hitter in the circuit.

After pointing out the bad work of the Southern league flingers one can turn to the majors and just take a glance at what some of the heavers are doing in the big show. Already Walter Johnson, of Washington, has gone wild and pitched something like 53 consecutive shutout innings, while young stars, such as Keating, of the New York Americans; Johnson, of the Cincinnati Reds; Falkenburg, of the Cleveland Naps, and a few others have started out to equal all records of past stars.

BATTING NOT SO GOOD.

While Johnson, Falkenburg and a few others are setting pitching history the batters are somewhat slumping. Tris Speaker, Joe Jackson and Nap Lajole are hitting along at their old clip, while most all the others are decidedly off. Eddie Collins, of Philadelphia, is the only exception to this rule, Mack's youngster being something like 70 points better than he knows how.

Old and tried stars, such as Larry Doyle, of New York; Heinie Zimmerman, of the Chicago Cubs; Ty Cobb, of Detroit; Hans Wagner, of Pittsburg; Chic Gandil, of Wahsington, and a bunch of other good hitters are under form and not pelting the ball as of yore.

Conditions, however, are sure to change, and that quickly.

L. G. I. Easy Winner

LOCUST GROVE, Ga., May 13.—In a walk away game Locust Grove institute defeated Lanier High school today by the one sided score of 11 to 1. L. G. I. team was composed largely of second-string men. Dewberry was easy, being found for ten hits.

Tiller, of L. G. I., who went in for Dozier, pitched a strong game, fanning the first two men who faced him. Locust Grove leaves Wednesday for Dahlonega, where two games are scheduled with the N. G. A. C. team.

Coulon Draws

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 13.—Johnny Coulon, the bantamweight champion, and Frankie Bradley, of this city, fought six rounds here last night and at the close the popular verdict was a draw. Neither man did much in the first two rounds and Coulon had the better of the third. The fourth round was even and Bradley was ahead in the fifth. But for frequent clinches in the final round Bradley probably would have earned the decision.

OPENING GAME LOST; PLAY MEMPHIS TUESDAY

BRADY WORKS SECOND GAME

(By Associated Press.)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 13.—For the second game with Atlanta today, Manager Brady has not yet fully decided whether he will pitch Kissinger or Harrell. The latter is due for the locals. Seabough will be behind the bat.

Atlanta is hopeful of a victory today with Brady and Graham as their battery. Weather conditions are ideal.

By losing yesterday's game Atlanta dropped from second to third position in the league standing and is now only half a game ahead of the locals.

"One Round" Goes The K. O. Route

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 13.—Young Shugrue, of Jersey City, knocked out "One Round" Hogan, of California, in the tenth round of a scheduled fifteen-round bout here last night. Shugrue had the advantage in all the rounds. The men weighed in at 135 pounds.

POLICE MUST BE FAST OR LOSE THEIR PLACES

WICHITA, Kan., May 13.—Members of the Wichita police force must be able to run 100 yards in 16 secaonds or less. This is a civil service regulation based upon the theory that offenders against the law usually are fast runners.

With the sidewalks lined with spectators, five large candidates for policemen's stars, tried to qualify in a 100-yard dash on a principal street here last night. One man crossed the finish line in 14 seconds, two more one second slower; the others failed to finish in the prescribed limit.

DOOIN'S MEN HIT STRIDE

Ill luck has forsaken the Philadelphia Nationals for a while at least and the men who are managed by Red Dooin are fast making history in the National league race. Right now the club is right at the top with only the Brooklyn bunch pushing it for first position.

For the past two years the Philly outfit has been made up of one of the hardest hitting set of ball players in the game and yet the team has been unable to go at a good clip. This has been caused by injuries, but this year no one has broken a leg or been killed and Dooin is going at a clip that no one can keep pace with.

Among the hardest hitters with the Philly gang you will find Fred Luderus, the big first sacker, who is continually poling them out of the lot; George Paskert, the ex-Atlanta fly chaser; Otto Knabe, the fast second sacker; Hans Lobert, regarded as one of the best third basemen in the older circuit; Sherwood Magee, long regarded as one of the hardest hitting outfielders in the game.

Coupled with his many hard hitters, Dooin has a good hurling staff. In Alexander, Chalmers, Seaton, Moore and Mayer he has seven men who have been going good and as all but one are very young they are sure to improve.

Glenn to Open New Track

Several riders of both local and national fame are to do honor of riding the first motorcycle on the new motordrome that will be completed next Thursday. As yet Jack Prince has not decided who shall have this honor, but so far Harry Glenn, the local crack professional, has the call. The surfacing will be finished Thursday, and then the first machine will be run on the smooth surface.

Glenn has never ridden on a board inclined track, but he is confident that he can hit the pace at more than a mile a minute. The weather conditions have been in favor of Prince and his work and he will open his new track on schedule time, the 23d of May. There is now a great amount of enthusiasm attached to the race and a record-breaking crowd is expected to be present on opening night.

Georgia-Alabama

LAGRANGE, Ga., May 13.—In a game that was almost a farce, Anniston defeated LaGrange on their home diamond by a score of 18 to 5. LaGrange pitched Beasley, who was wild, relieved him with Nelson, who went to pieces, and then put in Clarke, their second baseman, who pitched the balance of the game. Twenty-two errors were made by the Lagrange team.

At Newnan Opelika won the game by a score of 8 to 3. McCranie, the third baseman of Newnan, has been ruled out of the game by President Boykin and the team is crippled.

At Gadsden Talledega won by a score of 5 to 4. It was the hottest and closest game of the day in the league. The Talledega team is light, but very fast.

One City Dropped From Outlaw League

NEWARK, N. J., May 12.—The New York team of the United States baseball league, which began its season here only last Saturday, has lost its franchise, according to Umpire Collum, who was on hand yesterday for the regularly scheduled game with the Newarks, for which the New York players failed to appear.

The umpire declared the game forfeited, and also the franchise because the New Yorks chose to play an exhibition game at New Brunswick, where there was a larger attendance than here.

CHAP RAPPED RATHER HARD

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 13.—When Chappelle blew up in the seventh inning of Monday's game the Memphis club made six tallies and got away with the opening game against the hard hitting Atlanta club. The score was 8 to 5.

Until the seventh it looked as if Atlanta would win handily. Chappelle was weak when the seventh started and why Billy Smith did not take him out earlier is a puzzle. Had he been dercked right at the start of this round it is more than probable that the scoring of the home team would have been stopped and Atlanta would have won. As it was when Furchner relieved the ex-Lookout the game was too near gone.

Long and Welchonce featured the game with their good hitting, each getting two raps. Baerwald hit best for the Turtles.

Atlanta got an early lead of five runs, all of which came over in the third inning and were the result of hard hitting. At that time it looked like an easy victory for Smith, but Parsons settled down and hurled shutout ball the remainder of the game.

Football Star Out of Game

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 13.—A kick on the head received early in the Pennsylvania-Michigan football game last fall may prevent Walter Craig, the University of Pennsylvania athlete, from taking part in any more competitions on the track or gridiron.

Craig played quarterback in several games last year and was a member of the University of Pennsylvania one-mile relay team this spring. Recently he suffered several attacks of paralysis, said to be due to the old football injury, and physicians yesterday ordered him to give up all forms of competitive athletics.

STAHL DOING WELL; SOON JOINS TEAM

BOSTON, May 13.—Jake Stahl, manager of the Boston Americans, is recovering rapidly from an operation performed upon one of his feet last week.

Physicians said today probably he would be able to join the Red Sox team in Chicago the last of this week. It had been feared that Stahl would be obliged to remain in Boston a month.

TODAY

NEW ORLEANS, May 13.—"Dummy" Taylor and Yantz versus Covaleskie and Street are the batterymen announced for the second game of New Orleans-Chattanooga series for today.

Manager Elberfeld, of Chattanooga, announces he has signed Jimmy Dygert, traded by New Orleans to Toledo earlier in the season and later given his unconditional release.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 13.—Prough and C. Brown will be competing pitchers in the second game of the Birmingham-Montgomery series this afternoon. Mayer will receive for the visitors and Gribbens is billed to catch for the home team. The weather is threatening and cool.

MOBILE, Ala., May 13.—Manager Finn announced this morning that Campbell would pitch in the second game of the series with Nashville this afternoon, with Schmidt at the receiving end. Both will do the twirling for the visitors, with Noyes behind the bat. Pitcher Paige, formerly with the Montgomery team, has been signed by Manager Schwarz, of Nashville, and may work in the present series.

Phillies and Brooklyn Play Best Ball in the National League

IN REPLY.

You ask me, wanly, why it is
The Giants and Pirates trail each day;
Why they no longer rise and whizz
Amid the forefront of the fray;
I'll let it fly, waist-high, old pot,
In no sense padded out or stuffed,
And if I miss it will not be
The first soft chance that I have muffed.

They have the class and all of that,
They have the head and arm and eye—
They know best how to wield a bat
And how to trap the buzzing fly—
They have the stuff to romp along—
In every way they have the call—
The other pop-eyed clubs, outclassed,
Are merely playing better ball.

THE GIANT-PIRATE FLI-FLOP.

Back in March even against the Ides of April we had it all figured out. There were only two clubs in the National league race. Only two with no one else close. Nothing to it. Either the Giants or the Pirates were to win and the one that slipped up would still be second by 47 laps. Yes, it was an old-fashioned cinch—a prune-colored pipe—a pick-up with something left over.

It was shame the way these two clubs were to disrupt the old league and turn the race into a joke contest before mid-May. By June there wouldn't be enough race left to hang a cap on. The other six would be so far gone that put-riders would have to be dispatched back the highway to find bother or not they were still plugging against a vain hope or indulging in a foolish fancy despite unbeatable odds.

It was a crime to push Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Boston and such up against these clubs. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to second division ball players was about to take a hand and issue an injunction, stopping the slaughter before too much gore was wasted. Yes, it was all of that.

AND THEN—

And then—something happened. Something happened once or twice—and something continued to happen. In about ten days or two weeks the man-eating Giants and the deadly Pirates were back in the second division. Inside of another week in place of emerging with a roar they were still in second division, only more so. The sixth place Phillies and the seventh place Dodgers for some queer, weird reason insisted upon kicking the wadding out of the two pennant Pips at every opening. The slaughter was on—but the maiming was propelled from the other side of the wigwam.

The Pirates enjoyed a juicy alibi for a while. Hans Wagner was missing. That let them out. It let them out until Honus got back in again on the edge of the Boston series. With Honus back the old Piratical machine tore the Braves into strips? Not yet. Out of four games the Pirates only lost four with Wagner in them all.

What's the answer? There isn't any except that the other clubs have been playing better ball. The Phillies have furnished the best pitching shown in either league. The Dodgers have been kicking with a brand of ball good enough to stop almost any club in the game. The Braves have tossed off their shorudo for the time being at least.

Everybody's been getting along save the Giants and Pirates. And those were the two clubs that by the middle of May were to have closed up the other six cities and ended the race.

We still believe these two clubs will fight out the flag ensemble. They still look to have the class, provided Wagner can travel anywhere near his old clip. The stuff is still there to pound the high road at a winning clip.

But to date, at least three clubs have played them oft their feet all seven ways.

If the Giants, Pirates and Cubs are to finish 1-2-3 this season they can only do it by playing 1-2-3 ball. The other clubs are no longer dazed at the game's tradition, and the sight of one of the three leaders. Brooklyn and Philadelphia are tearing into all comers with the stuff that wins—and even the Braves are no longer afraid to raise the old race and whack a first division club on the bean. Some season looks to be the watchword. Affairs may adjust themselves later on but there are still merry days ahead before the adjusting takes place.

COMISKEY ON LONG JAUNT

NEW YORK, May 13.—It has just been learned that the world's tour of the baseball teams representing the Giants and the White Sox was arranged at a conference between Manager John J. McGraw and representative of Charles Comiskey, owner of the White Sox. It is understood that McGraw and the intermediary got together in this city to complete final plans. The trip will take four months.

The tourists will leave from Chicago on October 14, and will play through to the coast. Honolulu will be the first stop after the players embark on their long sea journey. The outfit will thence ply its way to Japan, and will give exhibitions in four of the biggest cities in the land of the slant-eyed inhabitants—Tokio, Yokahoma, Hakodado and another large province.

The following two games will be played in China at Pekin and Hong Kong. Manila will be the next destination of the pilgrims, and then they will show the natives of India how the American game is played.

BIRMINGHAM OUT OF GAME

CLEVELAND, O., May 13.—In sliding into second base in the ninth inning of Monday's game with New York, Manager Joe Birmingham broke a bone in his instep and the tibia of his right leg, it was disclosed by an examination after the game. The injuries may keep him out of his position in center field for a month, it is thought.

As he slid his toe caught in the dirt and bent backwards, causing the bones to snap. He limped from the field, putting a runner on the base in his place.

With Second Baseman Lajoie also out of the game, with a broken bone in each hand, the regular line-up will be seriously affected.

Dalton Elks In Big Game

Fats and Leans Plan Big Celebration—Given in Big League Style

DALTON, Ga., May 13.—Dalton lodge No. 1267, B. P. O. E., has been divided into two separate camps, the keenest of rivalry existing between the heavy and lightweights; but it is hoped that the trouble will be amicably settled by the baseball game between the two factions Wednesday afternoon.

Hon. Paul B. Trammell, state railroad commissioner and prominent local banker, and Colonel F. T. Hardwick, one of the leading financiers of the state, both, feeling unequal to the strenuosity of the game have volunteered their services. The former will sell peanuts in the stands and bleachers, while the latter will pass among the spectators handing out the bottles of pop to throw at the umpire, while Colonel W. E. Mann, a prominent local attorney, will sell score cards.

The game is advertised by the Elks as "the greatest sporting event in the history of north Georgia, one that will long be remembered in the minds of the people. Thirty brave athletes have been training for the past sixty days for this event."

TUXEDO, N. Y., May 13.—N. W. Niles and A. S. Dabney, the lawn tennis pair of the Longwood Cricket club, won the round robin doubles here. In the finals they defeated H. E. Hackett and R. D. Little, favored for the international cup team, at 6-4, 5-7, 1-6, 6-0, 6-1.

In the other competition William A. Larned and R. D. Wrenn defeated W. J. Clothier and C. F. Watson, Jr., at 6-3, 4-6, 9-7, 6-3.

Base Stealer

Rucker's Work Helps Dodgers

Nap Rucker is doing his full share towards keeping the Brooklyn Trolley Dodgers right in the thick of the fight for the National league flag, his win on Monday over Cincinnati serving to hold second place for the near New Yorkers.

The Brooklyn club this year is playing ball like a real championship organization. The whole outfit is going like a house afire and is making it interesting for all comers. In the games played with the New York Giants, Dahlen's men have made McGraw look like 30 cents and it has not been of the accidental nature, the team showing up well against each bunch it has played.

On the Brooklyn club are many ex-Southern leaguers and they are certainly doing their full share towards keeping the club right in the thick of the race. Included in this bunch of ex-Southerners are Red Smith, Nap Rucker, Lefty Allen, Zack Wehat, Jake Daubert and Charley Stengel. All are doing well in all departments, their hand and timely hitting however, being the main feature of their play.

PLAYERS KEEP CONDITION; SORE AT THE FAKE RUMORS

Reports pointing out that the members of the Atlanta ball club are dissipating are greatly untrue and do a great deal of harm to the players, according to a letter received from one member of the Cracker club. Every time a highly colored report telling of the dissipations of the club is started it spreads like wild fire and has a tendency to get the players sore and cause them to slump in their work.

Recently when the team was in Mobile losing it was reported that Price and Brady had been hitting the wine a bit freely and had been fined. Now from one who knows this is utterly untrue. Neither of the hurlers were in bad shape in Mobile or any other city on this road trip and just because they happened to lose a game is no reason why they should be accused of failing to keep in condition.

"Jim Brady is in as good condition as any member of the Atlanta ball club and is keeping perfectly straight," writes one who knows. "And as for Price," he continues, "he has been in jam-up shape and is always out there trying to win games. Reports that Price and Brady were fined for failing to keep in shape have proven very harmful and do these players a grave injustice."

Because the Atlanta club has lost a few games on the present road trip many have become a bit peeved and are placing the blame to every possible cause. A team cannot be expected to win all the time, especially on the road, and instead of knocking, all the fans should be in there pulling with all their might to aid in getting out of the rut. It takes sympathy to keep the team keyed up to its top form. Ball players are human and should be treated thusly, exaggerated reports serving to get them sore, at which time they naturally cannot do their best work.

Newnan Winner

NEWNAN, Ga., May 13.—Newnan met and defeated Palmetto by the score of 12 to 11, errors being responsible for the high score on both sides. The feature of the game was the pitching of Cook and Timbs for Newnan. Patton also pitched good ball for Palmetto. Struck out, by Timbs 11, by Cook 10, by Patton for Palmetto 13.

POULTRY, PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK

THE farmers of this country need help on something that will give results this year or next year far more than something that will help in years to come, and if some of the large appropriation that is now being expended for work that will be a long time bringing returns could be utilized for things that will bring us revenue more quickly I believe it would be far better and would be appreciated a lot more to pay more attention to some of these little details that will give us results quickly. Nearly every state in the country is paying more attention to her poultry products in Georgia. We can not keep idle and allow this to continue, but should get busy and do something at once, and instead of abandoning or giving up our poultry work at either Griffin or Athens it would be far better to let go some of the other lines of work and make a large appropriation and do more now in this poultry work and live stock work to help bring results quickly to our people. I do not know where the fault lies, but I do know that our people need to produce more food products than we are now getting and learn to do these things quickly and profitably because as soon as we can get these things ready for market the cash at profitable prices is always waiting for it. The people must be fed and poultry, eggs, milk and butter and in fact all kinds of farm products are ready cash every day and the man who has these can certainly exchange them for money, and above all things our state should not lose interest in our poultry work but should push it for all it is worth.

People will grow cotton so long as the world stands, and at a loss. They know how to do this and most people know what kind of land will produce cotton and corn and will continue to plant it every year, but there are many things connected with poultry and live stock that they have not the information that they should have on these subjects. The sooner this interest is worked up and the people educated on these lines that much quicker will we keep thousands of dollars in this state and help benefit a much larger number of people that need help now than we could do by encouraging them to raise cotton and many other things that we now know about. It is surprising to know even now the large number of poultry and eggs that are produced and sold in this state. There are but few people who realize how much in dollars and cents it amounts to, and scarcely any who are aware of the fact that during the past few months thousands of dollars have been kept in circulation, and thousands of people have had cash income from their poultry during this spring that has been a great help to them, and if it had not been for their poultry they would have had no income whatever. With the short cotton crop Georgia had last year there never has been a time when the poultry products of this state could have been more help than they have during this year. The only trouble is there was not enough of them to take the poultry products of Georgia out of it and untold suffering would be brought on thousands of people.

I am glad to say there are several counties in the state of Georgia now who have pushed their poultry work and it is surprising to note every day in these counties the large number of poultry and eggs that are being shipped daily to the cities and this money brought back to the country, which keeps it in circulation and helps hundreds of families that would not and could not have one cent if it was not for their poultry. There are but few people who realize this and but few people connected with our state's affairs who could help this work that realize in dollars and cents what it means to our country. I know of a number of families that have kept things going during the past winter and spring from the sale of their poultry and eggs, and without these they certainly would have had a hard time with many of their crops almost a failure. This past year has made many farmers and their wives open the importance of this poultry work and the good that it will do has just started. It will never do for us to lose interest in it or to leave anything undone that will help create more interest, and it is to be hoped that our state authorities will look into this matter more carefully and pay more attention to this work than they have done before, both at Griffin and at Athens.

Yours very truly,

QUESTIONS ASKED AND ANSWERED.

QUESTION.

Tuscaloosa, Ala.

I am a boy trying to raise chickens. I am losing so many. They begin dying at about a week old. I lose fully half. I hatch. I use an incubator and home-made brooder. I use jugs of hot water to warm them. The chicks do not come in direct contact with just I keep about thirty chicks in each brooder. I keep brooder clean, with sand and litter and keep drinking vessels clean, use a few drops of carbolic acid in drinking water every few days. They continue dying until several weeks old. I keep little chicks dry. After they are two weeks old I set brooder in open shed but keep in warm room until then. I turn chicks out in vegetable garden after it gets warm in the morning if it is not damp and cold. I feed Purina chick feed and some scraps from table, a little animal food. I feed one feed each day for first ten days of hard boiled eggs. The temperature of incubator ran up one day to 105. Would that have caused me to lose so many? The eggs hatched very well. B. B.

ANSWER.

Just so long as you use hard boiled eggs and bread to feed your little chicks with you can expect more or less trouble. Little chicks should have nothing the first week or ten days but the ordinary scratch feed. After they pass this stage they get tired of one feed. Therefore a change should be given them. Aunt Patsy, Park & Pollard, Cereia, Red Comb or most any of the other smash feeds that are sold by the average dealers should be kept constantly before the little chicks in a pan with a wire over it so that they cannot waste it, but they should continue to have the scratch feed every two or three hours just what they will eat up clean.

It is not a good idea to let brooder chickens out on the ground until they have feathered which usually four to five weeks old. It is best to keep them up until after they pass this stage. Chickens raised with hens, it is a different proposition. Stop feeding boiled eggs and vegetables and you will be able to raise your chickens. It is not necessary to use carbolic acid in water.

QUESTION.

Acworth, Ga.—Is there any way of keeping eggs or preserving them for better prices? If there is any thing that will keep them fresh, what is it, and where can you get it, and at what cost? J. P. W.

ANSWER.

The best way to keep or preserve eggs is by the use of what is known as water glass. The strength of preserving fluid can be had of most any druggist or from Jacobs' pharmacy, Atlanta, Ga. By using five parts of water and one part of sixty-five parts of boiled or distilled water, eggs can be kept for years perfectly sound in this preparation. Of course, you should be particular and use nothing but clean eggs and those that you know positively are fresh. This can be used in barrels, kegs or stone jars. A covering should be used on top so as to keep the eggs down under the fluid.

Of course, these eggs cannot be sold as fresh eggs after they are removed, as it is against the pure food law, but they can be used just as good, especially when used as needed, and could be sold to consumers by letting them know that they were preserved eggs. After these eggs have been removed from the fluid, if they are washed in clean water and then dipped in a weak solution of lime water, it gives them a nice color and they look very attractive. It is a splendid idea for farmers who use an egg to put away a supply when eggs are plentiful and keep a sufficient quantity to carry them through the winter months. The saving of 10c to 25c per dozen on a few hundred dozen eggs each year amounts to considerable money, and when a large family use a quantity of eggs this method can be practiced with much profit.

QUESTION.

Greenville, Ala.

Please tell me how long after chickens hatch can be injured for lice before they can be used for food.

Thanks for the expected favor.

MISS O. H.

ANSWER.

There is more or less odor from dipping for two or three months afterward, and it is not a good idea to dip your chickens that you wish for table use.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE

TERMINAL DISTRICT

ONE of the best opportunities in Atlanta real estate today is in the large section lying in between the Southern and A., B. & A. railroad. This section is about four blocks wide and it extends from Magnolia street out as far as Bellwood avenue.

IN THIS QUARTER you can buy good sized pieces of land improved with renting houses, property that yields a fair income and has speculative possibilities.

AN ILLUSTRATION, we can sell the southwest corner of Magnolia and Mangum streets, fronting 198 feet on Mangum street, for $7,500. This lot contains six buildings, five residences, and a store, bringing in $60 a month. It is one of those good corners that in time will be necessity in assembling a block of land, and will bring a fancy price.

ON SIMPSON STREET we can sell an entire block of frontage for $5,000. It lies in between Hunt and Edwards streets, fronting 214 feet on Simpson street and extending back 130 feet. All three streets are paved and have all improvements down. This is the block with the old stone house on it.

HERE is a choice little factory site bordering directly on A., B. & A. railroad; the southwest corner of Fox and Wilson streets. It fronts 220 feet on the railroad and has three renting homes. Price $2,500.

WEST SIDE values are low in comparison with other sections, and they are sure to go up in the process of equalization. All forward-looking men should lay in a few west side investments for future use.

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Dr. Calhoun Buys Former Arkwright Lot in Druid Hills. Whitehall Street Sale—Ponce de Leon Avenue Residence Sale—Building Notes – Clarkston Line to Be Running by September 1—Hotel for Decatur—Realty Men's Barbecue

Dr. Phinizy Calhoun has bought from Druid Hills what was known as the Arkwright lot on Ponce de Leon avenue adjoining the corner of Oakdale road, where S. H. Venable is building his granite residence. The sale was handled by Forrest Adair, Jr., of the Forrest and George Adair agency.

This lot has a frontage of 214 feet and a depth of 450 feet. It was sold for a little over $100 a front foot.

This lot was once offered the state as the site of a new governor's mansion, and is one of the most attractive lots in Druid Hills. Dr. Calhoun will probably build on it.

WHITEHALL STREET SALE.

A bond for title has gone to record conveying from Dr. W. J. Blalock to Alex Reeves a triangular lot at the intersection of Whitehall and Humphries streets.

The consideration was $13,750. The lot has dimensions of 121, 170 and 200 feet.

PONCE DE LEON SALE.

Edwin L. Harling has sold for J. N. Wallace to J. F. Morgan No. 285 Ponce de Leon avenue, a residence property, for $9,000.

CLARKSTON LINE.

The new trolley line to Clarkston will be completed and in operation by September 1, provided the company has no trouble about getting a right of way through the town. This announcement has been made by President Arkwright.

Whether the line will be extended to Stone Mountain at present has not been fully determined. Mr. Arkwright said that this was the only extension that would be made by the system for the present.

The new line will enter the rapidly developing section of DeKalb county.

HOTEL FOR DECATUR.

Decatur has come in for much notice of late on account of its rapid development and the activity of its board of trade.

The latest announcement from Decatur, made by Robert C. Ramspeck, secretary of the board of trade, is that negotiations are now on for a $100,000 hotel.

These negotiations are with northern capitalists, who have already inspected possible sites in the heart of the town.

REALTY MEN'S BARBECUE.

There will be no May meeting and dinner of the Atlanta Real Estate Board, but instead the meeting will be combined with the barbecue which will be held at Cold Springs on Saturday, June 14.

DID STEEL TRUST SAVE SOUTH'S COTTON CROP?

President Farrell, of U. S. Steel Corporation, Says It Is an Industrial Benefactor

NEW YORK, May 13.—James A. Farrel, president of the United States Steel corporation, resumed the witness stand today for the defense in the hearings of the government suit to dissolve the corporation. He pictured the corporation as an industrial benefactor.

He said that were it not for the policy of the corporation to do a "general business regardless of conditions," the cotton crop of the United States this year could not be marketed. He explained that the corporation supplied practically all the cotton ties used for binding cotton baled in the country, and that there was no profit in their manufacture.

"Our competitors," he said, "have shown no desire to manufacture cotton ties, so it devolved upon us to supply the demand. It is not an attractive business, but last year we supplied the compress men in the south with 1,900,000 bundles at 85 cents a bundle. If we should stop manufacture, the cotton crop this year would lie on the ground."

"The government at the time of the recent floods," he continued, "needed steel piling to strengthen the levee at New Orleans. We got a rush order for $15,000 tons on Tuesday and in spite of the fact that we were very busy we delivered it on Tuesday next, eighty-six hours before the high waters arrived. We always give preference to government work."

The cost of production of steel was greater in America than in European countries, Mr. Farrell testified. He said the wages paid abroad were 37 per cent to 38 per cent less than here, freight rates were lower and shipping facilities for export trade were better.

Pig iron could be manufactured in India and laid down in Calcutta at $5.88 a ton, he added, and there was now under way in a sailing vessel from that port to San Francisco the first cargo of Indian pig iron ever brought to this country. The freight was $6.50 a ton and under the new duty the tariff 11 cents. Thus the pig iron would be laid down in San Francisco at a cost of about $11.50. Chinese pig iron could be laid down in San Francisco under the new duty for $10.78. The present market price for pig iron on the Pacific coast is $21.50.

"Did you tell Mr. Underwood about that?" asked Judge Dickinson, counsel for the government.

"I don't think it would make any difference with him," smiled the witness.

SOLICITOR DORSEY IS WORKING NEW THEORY IN PHAGAN MYSTERY

not hitherto been connected with the case, was a Miss Ross. The young lady herself would not tell what she knew of the case and the solicitor's force would not discuss the nature of the evidence which is expected to give. Allan Woodward, a negro who heard screams seemingly emenating from the pencil company's factory at 11:30 o'clock on the night of Saturday, April 26, and the wife of the negro, Newt Lee, were among those examined.

Mrs. Rudolph Frank, of 152 Underhill avenue, Brooklyn, mother of Leo M. Frank, superintendent of the National Pencil factory, who is held in connection with the Phagan investigation, will probably come to Atlanta in a short time to be near her son, according to dispatches from New York.

Expecting that he would be quickly released, Mrs. Frank has kept the news of her son's arrest from her intimate friends until recently.

Mrs. Frank deplores the circumstances which have resulted in her son's arrest, and expresses her firm belief in his complete innocence of any knowledge of the crime.

WHEN AND WHERE PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLIES WILL HOLD SESSIONS

Northern, Southern and United Churches Will Each Hold Separate Conference, and at Night They Will Unite in Big Gathering at Auditorium—Meetings Will Continue Until All Business Is Concluded

Atlanta, the Presbyterian stronghold of the south, this week and next week, will be the host of the greatest meeting of Presbyterians in the world's history.

For the first time the assemblies of the United States of America, the United States and the United Presbyterian churches are meeting in the same city on the same dates.

For purposes of convenience, the assembly of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., will hereafter be designated as the northern assembly. The assembly of the Presbyterian church, U. S., will be designated as the southern assembly. The assembly of the United Presbyterian church is a name short enough for convenience, so it will be designated by that name.

These three assemblies will bring together 1,500 commissioners and several thousand visitors.

The northern assembly consists of 856 commissioners. The total membership of Presbyterian churches in this assembly is 1,350,000. The assembly has churches in every state and territory in the United States.

The southern assembly consists of 225 commissioners. The total membership of Presbyterian churches in this assembly is 292,845. The southern assembly's churches are confined to states which were Confederate during the war, except some churches in Missouri.

The United assembly consists of 300 commissioners. The total membership of Presbyterian churches in this assembly is 178,601. The United assembly's churches are confined mainly to states in the north and middle west, with some in the far west.

EACH ASSEMBLY SEPARATE.

Each of these three assemblies will hold its own separate business meeting, with two sessions in the day time, covering about an hour and a half each. These will come together for a popular meeting every night in the auditorium. On Friday afternoon they will come together for communion at the Baptist Tabernacle.

The northern assembly will meet in the Baptist Tabernacle, on Luckie street. It opens Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock, with a sermon by the retiring moderator, Dr. Mark A. Matthews, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Seattle, Wash., the largest Presbyterian church in the world, having a membership of over 5,000.

Thursday afternoon the northern assembly will perfect organization by electing a new moderator. Among the names which will be presented in this connection are the following: Dr. Maitland Alexander, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Stamford, Conn.; Dr. William pastor of Broad Street Presbyterian church, Columbus, Ohio; Dr. Howard A. Johnston, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Stamford, Conn.; Dr. William McKibbin, president of Lane Theological seminary, Cincinnati.

The new moderator, having been elected for the ensuing year, will immediately take the gavel, and the assembly will proceed to business, holding morning and afternoon sessions every day until adjournment, whch will be toward the middle of next week.

REPORTS OF BOARDS.

An important feature of the assembly program will be the reports of the eight boards in charge of the missionary and benevolent work of the assembly.

They are as follows: Home mission board, foreign mission board, college board, board of education, board of ministerial relief, board of church erection, board for freedmen (negroes), board of publication and Sunday schools. Also, there will be the report of the permanent committee on temperance.

These several reports will be referred to standing committees, each committee corresponding to the board whose report it takes, and these committees will digest the reports and report on them back to the assembly.

Another important routine matter will be the annual report of the executive commission, which consists of the moderator and fifteen commissioners. These men during the interim between assemblies exercise somewhat the same authority as the college of bishops in the Methodist church.

The southern assembly will meet at the North Avenue Presbyterian church. It opens Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock, with a sermon by the retiring moderator, Dr. Thomas S. Clyce, of Sherman, Tex.

Thursday afternoon the southern assembly will elect a new moderator, who will immediately take the gavel, and the assembly will then proceed to business, holding morning and afternoon sessions every day until adjournment, which will be toward the middle of next week.

The missionary and benevolent work of the southern assembly is in the hands of committees, instead of boards, and these will submit reports of what has been done in the past twelve months. All the Presbyterian churches in Fulton county are members of the southern assembly except the Harris Street church, which is a member of the northern assembly.

THE UNITED ASSEMBLY.

The United assembly will meet at the Central Presbyterian church, on Washington street. It opens Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, with a sermon by the retiring moderator, Dr. H. H. Bell, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of San Francisco.

Thursday morning the United assembly will elect a new moderator, who will immediately take the gavel, and the assembly will then proceed to business, holding morning and afternoon sessions every day until adjournment, which will be toward the middle of next week.

This assembly's missionary and benevolent work is in the hands of boards, and they will report on the work of the past year, the reports being referred to corresponding committees, which will digest them and report back to the assembly.

Thus it is seen that the three assemblies are practically alike in organization and that they follow similar programs in the transaction of business.

These business sessions of the assemblies will each be separate and distinct, neither one having any connection with the other. It will be the same as if they were meeting in different cities.

In addition to the three assemblies, there will be in Atlanta twenty-five commissioners comprising the assembly of the Associated Reform Presbyterian church. They will hold no assembly, however, as their assembly is tri-ennial and this is not the year for it to be held. They will be here simply to represent their church in the popular meetings.

GREAT POPULAR MEETINGS.

These popular meetings in the auditorium will be the big features of the whole event, from a standpoint of numbers in attendance, questions to be discussed, prominence of speakers. The conspicuous men of the three assemblies will be on the program, and the most important questions concerning the assemblies will be their subjects.

The general public, however, is not limited to these popular meetings. Each assembly meeting is open to all who want to attend, and each of them will be interesting.

As a sort of preliminary to the assemblies, there will be held a series of pre-assembly conferences, beginning Tuesday evening. Their purpose is mainly inspirational. They will bring the commissioners together to get acquainted and to hear general discussions of the principal work which the assemblies are conducting.

The northern assembly will hold four pre-assembly conferences. The conference on education will be at the Baptist Tabernacle, the conference on missions at Harris Street church, the conference on college presidents at Harris Street Sunday school room, and the conference on theological seminaries at Central Congregational church.

The southern assembly will hold two pre-assembly conferences. The conference on missions will be held at the First Presbyterian church. The conference on education will be held in the First Baptist church, beginning Tuesday afternoon and running through Wednesday afternoon.

On Wednesday at the North Avenue Presbyterian church there will be a union conference on evangelism, in which all three assemblies will take part. It will open at 10 o'clock in the morning. In the afternoon there will be a session from 1:30 until 5, and then will follow a dinner at the Piedmont hotel.

PRUSSIAN OFFICER SLAIN BY LUNATIC IN GERMANY

Sergeant of Police Also Slain in Munich—Mob Wounds Assassin Before Police Arrive

(By Associated Press.)

MUNICH, May 13.—Major General Von Lewinski, the Prussian military attache to Bavaria, and a sergeant of police were killed here today by a supposed lunatic.

The assassin, whose name is Straffer, attacked the general on a crowded street, first firing several shots at him, then turning the weapon on Police Sergeant Pollender.

General Von Lewinski was still alive when picked up. He was taken to the hospital in an ambulance, but died shortly afterward.

The assassin was seized by a crowd, who tried to lynch him, and succeeded in seriously injuring him before he was rescued by the police.

reach the scene of his future life. Raised in the Presbyterian faith since childhood, with the atmosphere of memorable achievements around him, he is eminently fitted for the work.

Dr. Mahy is accompanied by his secretary and will open temporary headquarters in the Empire building near the assembly rooms. He will hold daily conferences with the members of his committee and keep open at all times a bureau of information relative to evangelical work.

DR. MAHY TALKS.

In speaking of the joint conference, Dr. Mahy said:

"The general assembly is the highest court of the Presbyterian church and has supreme command of matters of discipline and doctrine. The three separate assemblies or branches of the faith meet and legislate for themselves during the day session and in the evenings all gather for a joint conference and unity of purpose. These meetings are great popular gatherings and we expect them to be of incalculable value to the denomination."

Other dignitaries already here are Dr. B. P. Fullerton, of St. Louis, field secretary of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., southern; Robert Mackenzie, secretary of the college board of New York City; Charles Steiza, superintendent of the bureau of social service, U. S. A., New York City, and James E. Clark, social secretary of the college board, U. S. A., New York City.

Two prominent lay members of the church who will arrive either during the late afternoon or early Wednesday morning are Charles L. Huston, president of the Lukens Steel works of Coatsville, Pa., chairman of the northern assembly and the committee on evangelical work, and J. H. Jeffries, of Philadelphia, president of the Fidelity Bank and Trust company of that city. Mr. Jeffries is chairman of the committee engaged in raising $10,000,000 endowment fund for the purpose of pensioning retired ministers. Charles L. Thompson, president of the general association, U. S. A., is also expected at the same time.

Another prominent delegate who arrived during the early afternoon was Prof. Charles Scanlon, of Pittsburg, Pa., secretary of the U. S. A. comittee on temperance. It was Prof. Scanlon whom President Taft appointed to represent this country at the non-alcoholic convention held in Europe last year.

A picturesque figure among the early arrivals was James H. Ellis, a full-blooded Indian, belonging to the Pima tribe, of which he is ruling elder in the missionary work. He brought with him credentials showing he was a commissioner from Phoenix, Ariz. Commissioner Ellis was the cynosure of all eyes and talked with a number of the delegates as he waited in the assembly headquarters to be assigned a home. Later he went to the residence of Rev. A. R. Holderby, on Luckie street.

MOST SICKNESS COMES FROM WEAK, INACTIVE KIDNEYS

Recent Reports Show Hundreds Suffer With Kidney Troubles and Don't Know It.

There are scores of nervous, tired, run-down people throughout the city, suffering with pains in the back and sides, dizzy spells, weaknesses of the bladder (frequently causing annoyance at night), who fail to realize the seriousness of their troubles until such conditions as chronic rheumatism, bladder troubles, dropsy, diabetes or even Bright's disease result.

All this is due to weak, inactive kidneys. The kidneys are the filterers of the blood, and no one can be well and healthy unless the kidneys work properly. It is even more important than that the bowels move regularly.

If you suffer with such symptoms don't neglect yourself another day and run the risk of serious complications. Secure an original package of the new discovery, Croxone, which costs but a trifle, and commence its use at once. When you have taken a few doses, you will be surprised how differently you will feel.

Croxone cures the worst cases of kidney, bladder trouble and rheumatism, because it removes the cause. It cleans out the kidneys, and makes them filter as all the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, that lodge in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the bladder, and quickly relieves you of all your misery.

You will find Croxone different from all other remedies. It matters not how old you are or how long you have suffered, it is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if it fails to give the desired results the very first time you use it.—(Advt.)

STAY ON YOUR FEET AND LIVEN UP YOU LIVER

Taking Calomel Often Means Staying Home for the Day—Take Dodson's Liver Tone and Save a Day's Work

If an attack of constipation or biliousness hits you, there's no need to take a dose of calomel and spend at least a day getting over the effects of it. Almost every druggist in town sells the liver tonic, Dodson's Liver Tone, and guarantees it to take the place of calomel and to start a lazy liver without any bad after-effects.

Dodson's Liver Tone does all the good that calomel ever did, yet it is absolutely harmless to young people and old. It is a pleasant tasting vegetable liquid that will relieve constipation or sour stomach or other troubles that go along with a lazy liver, without restriction of habit or diet. You don't leave off any of the things you regularly do when you take Dodson's Liver Tone.

Your druggist sells Dodson's Liver Tone and if you are not pleased with it you get your money back from the druggist.—(Advt.)
